Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Sept. 16. (To the Editor of The Times): The old promise about the South "still fighting the Civil War" don't hold up so good. It was suggested to the Northern boys at their reunion the other day that they hold a joint reunion with the Southern. Well, they just pulled out their whippers and started firing 'em at the suggestion. Said they would "never meet 'em" till the South admitted they were wrong; so that is one merger that is off indefinitely. The North got all the pensions and the post-offices; they don't need anything else.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Coast Speaker

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 16. (AP)—Predicting that transportation of express by air soon will exceed the value of passenger business to the major air transport operators, C. W. H. Smith, general traffic manager of Western Air Express, today addressed the opening session of the national air traffic conference of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce here.

Executives of twenty-nine major air transport lines were brought together here for the first time for a discussion of the traffic problems facing the air transport industry.

"Larger and better airplanes," Mr. Smith told his audience, "will provide the one essential requirement for an air express business. The development of aircraft will be advanced sufficiently to permit air express to be handled at railroad rates with far speedier delivery."

"The combination of 'down-to-earth' passenger plane service with rail connections for night travel is one of the most important developments in the air transport industry in the last year."

RESPECT FOR LAW URGED BY HOOVER

Letter from President to
C. E. Newlin, Los Angeles,
Read Over Radio

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—President Hoover said in a letter read over the radio tonight that familiarity with, and respect for, law is essential to the welfare of the country.

The letter was addressed to C. E. Newlin of Los Angeles, president of the American Bar Association, and was read over the Columbia Broadcasting Company chain as part of a nationwide observance of Constitution week.

"It is with great interest," the President wrote, "that I note the work which the American Bar Association is doing in disseminating information relative to our national Constitution—its history and purpose."

"Familiarity with, and respect for, the greatest of all charters of government among our fellow-citizens is essential to our national welfare. While I understand the association's work along these lines is carried on throughout the year, it has come to my attention that special emphasis is given to these activities during that week which includes September 17, designated as 'Constitution day.'"

"You and your associates are rendering a splendid patriotic service in this connection and I desire to express my appreciation of this service, with the hope that it will be continued with increasing benefit to all concerned."

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16. (Exclusive)—Exactly 700 members of the Women's Committee of Five Thousand who attended a meeting at the St. Francis Hotel today for a discussion of law enforcement hurried their answer at other women seeking modification of the Volstead Act by adopting a resolution pledging themselves to the enforcement of law and abstinence from social functions at which liquor is served.

The resolution followed the announcement of officers and the attendance was said to have set a record for gatherings of the organization. Included in the throng were leaders of civic, social, professional and political circles of the bay region.

Mrs. Parker Maddux of San Francisco warned the committee to consider its action carefully, but the discussion in favor of law enforcement swept the gathering. It was led by Mrs. John C. Urquhart of Los Angeles, head of the women's law observance group of Southern California.

Washington and Oregon Suffer

Two Vast Waves of Flame Laying Waste Forests and Periling Towns

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 16. (AP)—Destruction raged rampant today on two vast waves of flame in Oregon and Washington.

Forty miles southeast of Portland in the Mt. Hood National Forest, 15,000 acres were burned over, at least five residences were destroyed and a hotel and two schoolhouses reduced to ashes in fires that started a week ago.

Only a fortunate change in the wind saved the city of Escanaba, thirty-five miles southeast of here, from destruction. A terrific wall of flame ten miles across bore down upon the town and had advanced to within five miles of it before the wind shifted and permitted firefighters to take a fresh stand.

TOWN FACES EXTINCTION
In Clark county, Washington, a great fire in the Yakult area imperiled the once busy lumbering town and drove more than 200 residents from their homes. Those fighting the fire sent out an appeal for the assistance of the 900 army troops stationed at Vancouver Barracks. The situation, residents said, was beyond their control.

The communities of La Brea, Gardfield, La Dee and Perton were hard hit by the same fire that menaced Escanaba. Damage estimated at $100,000 was done by the flames. This included destruction of the La Brea Inn, a summer resort valued at $80,000; the R. Thomas Carter ranch, valued at $10,000, and a $30,000 crop of grain; the $10,000 P. L. Anderson summer home, two schoolhouses and several other residences and ranch buildings.

It was feared that by night nothing would remain of Yacolt. Highway leading from the place were packed with trucks and automobiles conveying household goods from the stricken community.

Philip Rivers, 48 years of age, a rancher, was burned to death at the Bell Mountain fire, thirty miles northeast of Vancouver, Wash., today, and his wife and son seriously injured in a fire that destroyed their home. Mrs. Fred Dudley was severely burned when her ranch near Sky, Wash., was destroyed.

LUMBER CAMP DESTROYED
The situation in other sections of Oregon and Washington was reported considerably improved, although several new fires broke out over the week-end.

Camp No. 1 of the La Dee Lumber Company was destroyed by the flames in the Mt. Hood sector today, and Camp No. 2 was a partial ignition.

Two hundred men fighting the flames there were unharmed from this afternoon, although forestry officials believed they were safe. They were last heard from yesterday.

HOLLYWOOD FIRE BATTLED

Dozen Fighters Overcome as Flames Sweep 150
Acres in Hills and Menace Homes

Flames menaced dozens of fine Hollywood hillside homes yesterday afternoon when a spectacular brush fire swept a high tract between Cahuenga Pass and Mulholland Dam just north of the Pilgrimage Play amphitheater. Twelve firemen were overcome by heat during the battle which lasted three hours before the threatening conflagration was declared under control.

Approximately 150 acres of heavy brush were burned over, and the flames threatened the Hollywood Hills, was destroyed in the swiftly spreading fire. According to Assistant Fire Chief Kelly, who responded on the second alarm, the fire was reported to have started in the vicinity of the hermit's shack at 2:15 p.m.

Feeding on the dry, thick brush, the flames roared up the small canyon in which the fire originated, and spread in a big chimney. Flames swiftly spread up three branching canyons and carried the mounting billows of flame up over the ridge toward Hollywood Lake. On the ridge and the adjoining slopes are many fine, expensive dwellings and estates, the residents of which prepared to be when they heard of the flames sweeping beneath them.

Battalion Chief Home and the first division of Hollywood firemen arrived promptly after the brush was burned over, and the advance of the flames until Assistant Chief Kelly arrived with a heavy reinforcement from downtown engine companies.

Heat of the day raised by the roaring furnace of brush penned in the canyons boiled over a down stream during the three hours or more of fighting. The majority of the men were revived quickly and were able to resume their duties. J. M. Ashby of Truck 9 was badly prostrated by heat and burns and was sent to the firemen's ward in George-Fremont Receiving Hospital. Other firemen whose heat prostrations put them out of the fighting for the day were J. E. Moore and J. M. Morgan of Engine 31, and C. G. Hopkins and O. H. Mohr of Engine 27.

Detectives and fire department investigators last night started an investigation to ascertain the origin of the fire.

HASBROUCK HEIGHTS (N. J.)

Sept. 16. (Exclusive)—Fokker's P-32, giant liner of the air, rests in its hangar today awaiting the call to service with its five mates, the first of which is scheduled to be built within the next three months at the Fokker factory to be constructed in Los Angeles. The planes will serve the traveling public over the lines of Universal Air Lines, P-32, which recently successfully passed necessary tests here, is the largest land plane ever built. It will carry thirty-two passengers in daylight flights, and contains berths for sixteen passengers in night flights.

The passenger cabin is divided into four sections and is finished in light mahogany and fabric. Each section has four windows. The ship, powered with four 525-horsepower Pratt & Whitney motors, has a cruising speed of 120 miles per hour, while it is capable of doing 150 miles per hour in sea-level country.

The giant plane has a wing spread of ninety feet and is seventy feet long. It weighs 13,500 pounds.

MURDER IN FLAMES' PATH

Northern Forest Incendiaries Believed Slayers; Fire Suspect Confesses as Blazes Spread

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16. (Exclusive)—One man murdered, presumably by incendiaries whom he had detected firing timber, a fire fighter perhaps fatally injured, one man under arrest after confessing the setting of eleven fires and thousands upon thousands of acres after, tonight summarize a blazing inferno stretching through California Coast counties from Tehachapi to the Oregon line.

The body of George I. Ruster, 35 years of age, was found by United States rangers on the eastern edge of Klamath National Forest according to reports to Fred Douthett, forest superintendent at Yreka. Ruster was shot or stabbed to death and his body dragged at least a quarter of a mile into the path of advancing flames, obviously so it would be destroyed and the crime untraceable.

MINER NEAR DEATH
George Peabody, miner of Columbia, Tuolumne county, is unconscious in Sopers Hospital and expected to die. He has a fractured skull. He was hurt when the automobile in which he was rushing to the fire lines was swung sharply on a hairpin turn that he was hurled headlong out of the car.

In the same district Charles Christmas was arrested for hip-flask bootlegging, the charge against him being that he tried to lure fire fighters away from the lines by offering liquor to them.

The man arrested for setting fires is said to be a timberman, but his identity has not reached forest offices here tonight.

SITUATION ACUTE
The fire situation is considered acute and follows a week-end hull which had brought hope the fires were dying out.

Principals developments as reported to State and Federal offices are:

Flames sweeping on the historic mining town of Columbia, endangering surface workings of the Springfield mine and property of the Bell Marble quarry.

Fire front twenty-five miles long on Monterey-San Benito county line, with wardens combing Salinas, Watsonville, Hollister and other towns for additional help.

Utah declared out of danger by State Forester Pratt, who estimates 20,000 acres have been burned in Mendocino county.

The fire in the Columbia district is said to have covered 6000 acres to the present. It started yesterday morning when the cabin of Humboldt Martin, prospector, caught fire from a defective flue.

Four ranches lie in the path of the flames in Monterey and San Benito counties.

Planes in air survey smoke-bound zone and were in the La Dee district at that time. Destruction of the Forestry Service telephone system cut the group off from any communication with headquarters. The district forester said that considerable area of burned-over land, now cool, would afford the men a haven in case flames surrounded them.

Fifteen or twenty families in the Garfield district, five miles from Etacada, were camped in their front yards tonight, watching anxiously the progress of the flames. They rested beside trunks loaded with household goods, ready at any moment to desert their property if the flames approached closer. Farm animals were herded together ready to be driven from the stricken district.

PLANES IN AIR
SURVEY SMOKE-BOUND
The worst forest fires in more than forty years are raging unchecked in the Pacific Northwest, according to Capt. Harry C. Claiborne, leader of a three-unit squadron of Curtiss flying service planes now smoke-bound at the Portland Swan Island Airport.

REDSKINS HIDE KEY TO ORIGIN

Old Alaskan Villages Fail to Divulge Secrets

Scientist's Summer Quest
Proves to be Vain

Smithsonian Man Convinced
Indians Came from Asia

SEATTLE, Sept. 16. (P)—Ancient Indian villages, buried for centuries, failed this summer to reveal the missing link giving physical proof of the theory of Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, Smithsonian Institution scientist, that the American Indian emigrated from Asia by way of Alaska.

After a summer of research work in Alaska, Dr. Hrdlicka said today he is convinced that the Indian was an Asiatic who emigrated thousands of years ago, but that linking up the past with the present is difficult.

The definite solution of the origin of the American Indian has not yet been found as nature has buried the key under thousands of years of reconstruction of Alaska by the action of the rivers and the elements," he said. "It has been a wonderful study and some time by someone will uncover the key to the problem."

"The Indians came originally from Asia in watercraft. A study of the country demonstrates this. These small tribes migrated down the coast, using water routes, and settled first along the Pacific Coast, and worked inland from there. The linking of the past with the present is an arduous work."

Dr. Hrdlicka said that work was a continuation of that carried on by himself in 1926 and by others for the Smithsonian Institution since 1907. Its objects were to solve the origin of the Indians and their racial relation to the Indians and study the vanishing living full bloods. Dr. Hrdlicka predicted that in less than twenty years there will be no full-blooded Indians in Alaska.

During the summer the party traveled more than 1500 miles along the Yukon River hunting for archeological relics. Old Indian villages were uncovered and examined and many cases of exhibits sent to the institution in Washington. Guests were made of fifteen full-blooded Indians and Eskimos.

BUS PASSENGER KILLED
SHEBOYGAN (Wis.) Sept. 16. (P)—One man was burned to death and an undertermined number of persons injured when a Sheboygan-Fond du Lac motor bus overturned and burned one mile west of Plymouth, Wis., today.

Three thousand acres on Punk Hill, near Copperopolis in Calaveras county, which includes valuable pasture land, are reported to have been burned. The fire, in the opinion of Warden Herbert, was incendiary. Copperopolis is the scene of a mine cave-in in which trapped seven men several days ago.

In Trinity National Forest 1300 acres of brush and young fir timber are ablaze with fifty-five men unable to stem the fire.

In California National Forest near Mt. San Hadram, 3000 acres are aflame with eighty men on the lines.

TROOPS ASKED FOR
Forest fires in Southern Washington near Portland caused an appeal to Maj. Gen. Hines, commanding the Ninth Corps Area, for troops to help the fire fighters. In response to telegrams from Sheriff McCrindle and R. S. Lindley, secretary of the Vancouver Chamber of Commerce, the general sent orders from the San Francisco Presidio to Vancouver barracks to order out all available men and to provide the necessary supplies and equipment.

In the Utah sector, aside from the safety of the city itself, the situation remains grave because of sporadic fires starting from the larger blazes. Two of these are reported between Hopland and Cloverdale.

The three fires on Pine Ridge, Low Gap and Robinson Creek, which threatened the town, are reported under control as are the fires at Sherwood, on Cow Mountain at Parley, Cummings and along the coast. Vichy Springs was saved when the flames were stopped about a mile and a half distant.

Last tonight rangers and fire crews from Siskiyou National Forest in Oregon were reported to be on their way to aid in fighting the flames on a six-mile front in Tule Creek district in Del Norte and Humboldt counties.

The blazes, according to officials, was racing over Smith Creek and Blue Creek toward extensive stands of pine trees.

by Maj. C. C. Moseley, who dispatched the three planes from Los Angeles early in the month on a 2000-mile tour of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. Claiborne stated that his schedule had been delayed more than a week by the dense fog of smoke blanketing every section of the country to be surveyed.

Pistols of Bank Bandits in River
SALINA (Kan.) Sept. 16. (P)—Guns used in the robbery of the First National Bank of Lamar, Colo., more than a year ago, lie at the bottom of the Saline River where a bend in the stream bisects United States Highway No. 81, five miles north of here, officials here were informed today.

In a letter to Sheriff E. R. Nelson, Salina, L. E. Alderman, New Mexico, who is responsible for the apprehension of three of the four men who committed the robbery and four clays, said the men in their confession told of throwing the weapons into the river.

Proposals Sent Minister of China at Berlin

SHANGHAI, Sept. 16. (Exclusive) The Tachung News Agency of Peiping reports that semiofficial dispatches from Moscow state that new proposals were telegraphed by the soviet through Germany to Ching Tuo-ping, Chinese Minister at Berlin, for the settlement of the Chinese-Russian dispute as follows: The soviet government will agree to the appointment of a new manager for the Chinese Eastern Railroad in the event the Nationalist government agrees to the appointment of a new chairman. The soviet government will agree that no further border raids will be made if the Nationalist government will prevent the incursion of White Russians into Russia.

PRISONER EXCHANGE It reiterates its previous proposal to release Chinese subjects detained in Russia if the Nationalist government agrees not to detain soviet employees of the Chinese Eastern Railroad. Also that both governments pledge not to spread propaganda.

It reminds the Chinese government of the soviet right to appoint a manager for the Chinese Eastern Railroad according to the agreement of 1924. The Ministry of Foreign Affairs sent another message to Ching Tuo-ping asking that he make another protest to Moscow concerning the asserted mistreatment of more than 1000 Chinese subjects detained in Siberia.

From Mukden it is officially reported that 117 civilians were killed in the recent bombardment of Sui-fen.

MODERN EQUIPMENT Chang Hsueh-liang dispatched an artillery division equipped with anti-aircraft guns and five squadrons of airplanes to Sui-fen for organized service on the border. Anticipating attempts of invasion from the Chahar and Suiyang frontiers from Inner Mongolia, the Chinese authorities are mobilizing all units and concentrating them on the border in these regions. Volunteer corps are being stationed at strategic points of defense.

It is reported from Manchuria that 4000 soviet troops are moving from China to Urya, preparatory to penetrating toward Kalgan.

Two Escape Prison Camp

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Two escapes from Prison Road Camp 17, located near Croville were reported to Warden Holohan here today.

The men are Charles McDermott, 22 years of age, serving five years from Kern county on a bad-check charge, and John Kriwanek, 21, serving four years from Los Angeles county on a charge of stealing automobiles.

The two were missed this morning when the other men at the camp were lined up to go to work, the camp superintendent said. Officials of surrounding towns were notified.

BROTHERS SOUGHT IN FATAL SHOOTING

SANTA MARIA, Sept. 16. (AP)—A police net cast south of here today seeks two brothers, one of whom is suspected of slaying Justino Navarro, 24-year-old Mexican vegetable worker, who was shot to death in Guadalupe, near here, early this morning. Raphael Garcia, 20 years of age, and his brother Miguel, fled immediately after the killing.

Intelligent Lubrication SAVES MONEY

WHEN some people hear of a man doing a job right they label him "expensive." Perhaps you have been passing up a specialized lubricating job for your car because you thought it high priced.

Here are a few facts: Recently we investigated the prices charged in Los Angeles and other coast cities for good car lubrication. And we discovered that McBryde prices were 31% lower than the average. In some cases McBryde was as much as 50% lower.

What is more, we believe that nowhere can you get as thorough, as complete a lubricating job as at McBryde's.

McBryde is more economical and more thorough because he specializes on lubricating. If you want the best at a reasonable price see McBryde soon.

LINDBERGH BACKER TO BE AMBASSADOR

Harry F. Guggenheim

GUGGENHEIM GIVEN CUBA ENVOY POST

White House Announces Name of Flying Pioneer as New Ambassador

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Harry F. Guggenheim has been named by President Hoover as Ambassador to Cuba in place of Noble Brandon Judah of Chicago, who recently resigned.

The name of the new Ambassador to the Havana post had been prominently mentioned in diplomatic circles for some time and the appointment was confirmed at the White House today.

Guggenheim has recently become one of the leading supporters of American aviation as president of the Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics. In that work he has been closely associated with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, whom he has designated as one of the trustees of the fund.

The interest of the new Cuban envoy in flying started during the World War, as he served in the naval aviation forces in both France and Italy. He rose to the rank of lieutenant-commander and was recommended by Admiral Sims for a citation for exceptional service. The Navy Department, however, failed to act on the citation.

Last year he was awarded the gold medal of the American Arbitration Association for Distinguished Service in the promotion of peace.

FAMILY OF CRAZED MAN MURDERED

Canadian Mechanic Kills Children, His Wife, Fires House and Slaes Self

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Sept. 16. (AP)—William Campbell Phillips, 37 years of age, a machinist, ran amuck with a hatchet in his home today, killing his wife, Joan, 10, and his son, Eric, 4, slashed at his wife's face and head, then, to conceal all traces of his crime, set fire to his house and ended his own life by cutting his throat.

His wife, Lily Phillips, 33, was brought unconscious and in a critical condition to a hospital.

Mrs. Phillips escaped by jumping from a second story window into the backyard. She was gashed in the neck and suffered a fractured jaw.

None but the principals witnessed the murders. Mute evidence of what happened was revealed to firemen who went to the scene in answer to an alarm.

The basement was in flames. Rushing up the firemen found Joan and Eric in a front bedroom horribly battered. The boy was dead.

The girl was still alive as she was carried out, but succumbed before she could be placed in an ambulance.

Indictment for Fraud Voted in Waggoner Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—An indictment containing six counts and charging mail fraud, was returned against Charles D. Waggoner, president of the Bank of Valverde, Colo., today by a Federal grand jury investigating the method by which Waggoner fraudulently obtained $800,000 credit in six New York banks.

All of the counts relate to specific use of the mails by Waggoner in his manipulations and the indictment charges that Waggoner and "others, to the grand jury unknown," hatched the scheme "on or about May 1."

The indictments show how Waggoner, small-town banker, allegedly laid his scheme and carried it through to the embarrassment of six of the big banks of the country.

MEXICO CHURCH ACCORD FIXED

Federal Government Asserts Regulation Right

Circular Limits Power of Individual States

Federal Ruling on System Will be Supreme

[Copyright, 1939, by Chicago Tribune.] MEXICO CITY, Sept. 16. (Exclusive)—After a week's "exchange of impressions" between the Department of the Interior and representatives of the Catholic Church of Mexico, an understanding has been reached on outstanding questions in relation to the church and Mexican law and the government is issuing a circular of instructions to the State governors.

The circular defines at length the religious situation as far as the States are concerned and what the State governments may or may not do to the regulation of public worship. About the only thing the circular leaves of the old State pretensions is the right to regulate the number of priests, and even this "constitutional right" has a string tied to it.

ASSERTS RIGHT The Federal government asserts the right under the Constitution and Federal law, to regulate all matters concerning the church, and emphatically forbids State interference.

Even in maintaining the maximum number of priests in a State, city or town, consideration must be taken of "religious necessities of the locality."

Any move of the State authorities "contrary to Federal orders," shall be considered unconstitutional and unlawful. Among the unlawful acts are "attempts of State and local legislatures to determine the residence of priests, the number of bishops, and the civil state of the priests, that is, married or unmarried, all of which are private matters of the church to be regulated within the bosom of the church."

RULE ON BUILDINGS The only clause in the circular which is not altogether favorable to the Catholic Church declares that church buildings occupied by priests cannot be taken therefrom without careful examination of the rights of the present holders to occupy the buildings. It is supposed to be in favor of schismatic priests, to whom the churches were given during the Calles regime in the name of the contra-Roman organization, known as the "Mexican Catholic Church," which holds former Catholic church buildings in numerous Mexican cities and towns.

The stand of the government knocks the ground from under certain States like Yucatan, Jalisco, Durango and Chiapas, which have confined the activities of the church to a few priests, confiscated the churches, and even declared, as in the case of Chiapas, that no priest may officiate in the State unless married.

LINDBERGH BEGINS TOUR TOMORROW

Hops Friday from Miami for 7000-Mile Trip Over Sixteen Latin Countries

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today announced that he and Mrs. Lindbergh will leave Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Wednesday morning for Miami, Fla., whence they will set out next Friday on a 7000-mile air trip which will carry them over sixteen Latin American countries in twenty-one days.

As technical adviser of the Pan-American Airways he will make the trip to inaugurate mail service between the United States and Dutch Guiana and passenger service connecting nineteen countries with the United States.

Col. Lindbergh said he expected to arrive at Miami Thursday. He said that during the air tour no night flying will be undertaken.

Besides Col. Lindbergh, the crew of the plane will include Charles Lorber, mechanic, and W. W. Egan, radio operator, who plans to make at intervals of thirty minutes entries in a radio log to be kept in Miami. In addition the plane will carry as many passengers as the quantity of mail aboard will safely permit.

The party plans to pay its respects to the governments of the various countries in which stops will be made.

CHURCH BAN ON NEGROES ANNOUNCED

Brooklyn Rector's Speech Thunder Clap to Colored Members of Congregation

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—The New York Herald-Tribune tomorrow will say Rev. William S. Blackshear, recently appointed rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. Matthew in Brooklyn, announced to his congregation yesterday that negro attendance at his church no longer will be permitted.

Several negroes were present in the congregation, which consisted mostly of white people. A witness declared that at Mr. Blackshear's declaration one negro woman arose and hurried out weeping.

The rector called attention to a paragraph in the church bulletin which read: "The Episcopal Church provides churches for negroes. Several of these churches are within easy reach of this locality."

"They are in need of the loyal support of all true negro churchmen. Therefore the rector of this parish discourages the attendance of membership in this church of members of that race."

MOVING PICTURE MADE OF MUSIC

Sounds Turned Into Ribbon of Light on Screen

Instrument Used to Show Student Perfect Harmony

Imperfections in Musical Instruments Detected

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—Music was transformed into a ribbon of light and made to write its "soul" characteristics on a cloth screen at Steinway Hall today.

When low, pure tones were sounded, the strip rippled smoothly, like waves motion traveling along a rope, but when harsh, discordant sounds were made, the shining line writhed and contorted like an agitated snake.

For all gradations of harmony, the line showed distinctive waves, different for each sound, even down to discrepancies in tone too fine for the ear.

AIDS MUSIC STUDENT The instrument is a development of the Odeon, which has been used for some time to photograph voice and music characteristics. The new device substitutes a moving picture for a "still." It hears a mirror, vibrating under control of an electrical current from a microphone that picks up the sounds to produce the picture.

A beam of light through revolving mirrors. It was developed by William Braid White, acoustic engineer of the American Pipe and Wire Company, and C. Anderson, engineer of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

Musical studies are given a pattern of a perfect sound and attempt to reproduce it in the light. "It seems certain," said Dr. White, "that improvement can be attained in this way, but it also seems certain that no amount of effort will transform a good clerk into a great artist, for one of the things demonstrated in that each artist produces patterns as individual as his signature, and though others may be able to imitate these patterns fairly well, apparently no one else can reproduce them exactly."

MISTAKES CORRECTED "Master musicians are interested in studying their own technique. For example, the pianist has learned by these sound wave photographs that he can produce a single note with at least sixteen different gradations, each individual in tone, color and loudness."

"We were able to show another musician, that his finger made little clicks when he struck the key in a certain way, and that this certainly had an effect, however, minute, on his playing."

The Odeon is designed to calibrate the harmony of musical instruments and detect imperfections, whether in tones from wires or strings, or reverberations of sounding boards.

Mr. White said that it is found sounding boards some times reverberate better at some points in the scale than others.

Hoover Names Department of Commerce Men

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—William I. Cooper of New York was nominated by President Hoover today to be Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in the Department of Commerce.

The nomination of Clarence M. Young of Iowa to be Assistant Secretary of Commerce in Charge of Aviation also was submitted to the Senate. His appointment was announced several days ago.

STERAGE PASSENGER RESTRICTIONS EASED

MANILA, Sept. 16. (AP)—Restrictions on the carrying of steerage passengers by trans-Pacific liners, inaugurated several weeks ago, to curb the spread of meningitis, were relaxed today. Under the modification ships may carry steerage passengers to the extent of 25 per cent of capacity, instead of 20 per cent. However, if the situation becomes worse the regulations will be re-established.

Radio Man Tried as Wife Slayer

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) Sept. 16. (AP)—Earl Francis Peacock, 21-year-old radio mechanic, was placed on trial today for the killing of his gay and pretty young wife, Dorothy. Through a long day that made jurors weary, he remained a composed and dapper presence, betrayed only by the pallor of months in a cell.

Almost a half hundred prospective jurors were examined before Peacock was accepted as the defendant. He was charged with the murder of his wife, Dorothy, on September 10, 1938, in White Plains, N. Y.

Piratas Chinos que Secuestran a los Oficiales de un Vapor PRUQUIN, Septiembre 16.—La legación noruega de esta ciudad dijo hoy que el capitán Healand, el primer oficial Westerheim y otros tres oficiales del vapor noruego Botnia están presos en poder de los piratas que abordan ese barco a fines de la semana pasada, a la altura de Haichok.

Los piratas, que invadieron al vapor luego que éste hubo encallado en una barra, se pusieron a despojarlo de su cargamento de sal y cacahuetes. La legación noruega ha dado parte del caso a las autoridades nacionales de Noruega.

En 1927, recibió la piratería costera un golpe decisivo con haber ahogado en Hongkong a quince piratas, pero parece que ha comenzado de nuevo a hacer de las suyas. Según dicen mensajeros japoneses, el buque de carga nipón Etsumaru fue atacado por juncos piratas a la latitud de Wuang, y no se sabe aquí todavía que suerte habrá corrido.

Se Llegó a un Acuerdo en los Amos de la Ciudad de México

CIUDAD DE MÉXICO, Septiembre 16.—Tras una semana de cambio de impresiones entre el ministro de lo interior y una representación de la Iglesia Católica de México, se ha llegado a una inteligencia en los principales puntos de conflicto entre la iglesia y las leyes mexicanas, y se expresa la esperanza de que los gobernadores sobre ese asunto.

Dicha circular define pormenorizadamente la situación religiosa en lo que a los estados concierne, y dice lo que los gobiernos de éstos pueden, y lo que les está vedado hacer en punto de legislación del culto público. Casi la única cosa que se le deja a los estados de los derechos que pretenden tener, es el de regular el número de sacerdotes, y no en algunos reservas.

El gobierno federal reclama para sí el derecho de la constitución y la ley federal, y el estado civil de los ciudadanos todo lo concerniente a la iglesia, y enfáticamente veda a los de los estados que intervengan en esto. Cualquier medida de los estados de los estados contraria a las disposiciones federales será considerada ilegal y anticonstitucional.

Entre los actos ilícitos de que deben abstenerse las legislaturas locales figuran los de determinar la residencia de los clérigos, el número de los obispos, y el estado civil de los sacerdotes (solteros o casados). Todos estos son asuntos privativos de la iglesia, que a ella compete regular en su seno.

M. Bayle, Famous Detective of France, Assassinated Salesman Named by Sleuth
as Forger Kills Him

Scientist's Methods Said to Border on Miraculous

(Overland, 1939, by the Chinese Tribune)—PARIS, Sept. 16. (Exclusive)—Edmond Bayle, successor to Bertillon, one of the greatest scientific sleuths France ever produced, was assassinated in cold blood this morning in the crowded corridors of the Palace of Justice by Joseph E. Philippon, a middle-aged and fat salesman, who later told police he considered that he had received "a dirty deal" from the famous detective.

Bayle, who was married and the father of five children, just returned from a vacation yesterday and was hastening toward his laboratory when the salesman rushed toward him and fired three shots point blank, one of the bullets lodging in the heart, causing instant death.

The sound of the shots caused a panic in the corridors, which were filled with lawyers, court workers and witnesses. The murderer made no attempt to escape and was easily captured as he sauntered out of the building. When questioned he declared his act was based on revenge.

"Satisfaction is easily worth the death of the father of five children," Philippon declared. He said he recently had been charged with forging accounts on his employer's books but an expert accountant cleared him of guilt and then M. Bayle reversed the decision. M. Bayle's official job was chief of the identification bureau. Since taking over the job several years ago he introduced new scientific methods which were little short of uncanny. Dozens of major mystery cases have been solved under a microscope in M. Bayle's laboratory.

One of M. Bayle's favorite tricks was to use a set of various electric lights by which he detected forgeries by a method of his own when officers confessed themselves nonplussed. He also twice ascertained the identity of women criminals by isolating a bit of face powder in the dust found near the scene of the crime.

M. Bayle had an enviable reputation as a scientist before he took up criminal work.

AMERICA KEEN FOR EDUCATION

Endowment of Special Lines Reaches Huge Total

Private Funds Contributed
$70,000,000 Last Year

Sum Takes No Cognizance of Regular Agencies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—The business of producing better educated Americans moved forward last year under the stimulus of funds provided by fifteen independent boards and foundations in addition to regular Federal and State boards.

The United States Bureau of Education in making this announcement today adds that the Carnegie Foundation for Advancement of Teaching showed in its report for the year ending June 30, 1937, apportionment of $2,000,000 for research allowances and pensions, pension studies, administration and publications; and of $1,000,000 for studies of legal and dental education.

The sum of $2,041,300 was authorized by the Carnegie Corporation of New York for library service, adult education, the arts, educational studies, research and general interests.

FUNDS CONSOLIDATED

Appropriating $28,000,000 during 1938 for educational, scientific and charitable purposes, the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial was consolidated early in 1938 with the Rockefeller Foundation. The latter disbursed $4,007,343 for medical education alone during 1937.

The General Education Board has appropriated $17,407,000 since its foundation in 1902, of which $12,400,000 was from principal and the remainder from income.

To pay the salaries of professors of English or science in twenty colleges the John F. Slater Fund spent $8,000 during the term 1937-38.

NEGRO SCHOOL AID

For the improvement of negro rural schools, $100,047 was given by the Jeanes Fund, co-operating with public school authorities in 300 counties in fourteen States.

"For aiding in the education of negroes, both in Africa and the United States, North American Indians and needy deserving white students," the Phelps-Stokes Fund—capitalized at $1,200,000—has founded fellowships in the universities of Georgia and Virginia. It also has established a special fund at Peabody College for teachers of Nashville to enable their progress.

OTHER AGENCIES

Among the other agencies active the Education Bureau named the American Field Service Fellowships for French Universities, which awarded nine fellowships; the Commission for Relief in Belgium Education Foundation and the Foundation Universitaire, which contributed $100,000 toward completion of the Louvain Library, and $500 Belgian francs for completion of new buildings of the University of Brussels; the Kalm Foundation for Foreign Travel of American Teachers, supporting a single fellowship of $5000 yearly.

The Commonwealth Fund, which appropriated $2,000,000 for public health and education and child welfare for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1939; Julius Rosenwald Fund which appropriated $204,831.21 for scientific educational, religious and charitable purposes; the Payne Fund, which appropriated the income of approximately $2,000,000 for the study of juvenile reading.

NATIONAL FOOD PRESERVATION PROGRAM

How to safeguard your family's health this winter

Health centers upon the food we eat. You know that. And so for your family you buy the best of nourishing food.

But do you preserve this food safely, economically?

Doctors and public health authorities are agreed that only artificial refrigeration the year around safely guards perishable food products. Cold is the conqueror of those tiny micro-organisms that cause food to spoil. Fifty degrees is the danger point. When the temperature creeps above that point bacteria multiply astonishingly. When it falls too low—as in back-porch and window-sill makeshifts—foods freeze, lose their nourishment value.

Whether the calendar says June or January, artificial refrigeration keeps the temperature exactly where it should be to avoid waste, and guards the health of your family.

Share in 835 Prize Contest Awards Totaling

$25,000 CASH VALUE

For writing best 400 word letter telling: "Why 50 Degrees Is the Danger Point," you can win first prize—

MODEL HOME

To set the nation thinking on this vitally important topic of proper food preservation—to plan new ideas, new facts and figures concerning food preservation in guarding health and preventing economic waste, the National Food Preservation Council offers prizes to the value of $25,000 for the best essay in a National Idea Contest.

The capital prize is a Model Home; or $10,000 in gold. The second prize is a 1939 five-passenger Cadillac Coupe, selling at $3,995 F. O. B. Detroit; the third prize $2,000 in gold—and so on down the list of 832 other big cash awards.

G.O.P. LEADERS IN TARIFF ROW

Borah and Reed Clash Over Farmer Protection

Former Says Proposal Fails to Solve Problem

Later Declares Campaign Pledges Filled

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (P)—Republican differences over the tariff reached fever heat in the Senate today as Senators Borah of Idaho and Reed of Pennsylvania clashed over the treatment accorded agriculture and industry in the pending revision bill.

DEATH BALKS REUNION AFTER LONG SEPARATION

RACINE (Wis.) Sept. 16. (P)—A few days ago he died of acute alcoholism, penniless. Yesterday Stanley J. Knoch, a friend of the family, arrived from the old country and in his care was a letter for Joe. It was from his wife and said:

"Dear Joe: We have just inherited some property and now you won't have to work your fingers off for us anymore. The boys are always asking for you. Please, Joe, come home."

Inadequately provided for and that increases proposed in farm rates will be more than offset by raises in industrial levies.

Reed denied the bill violates Republican tariff pledges. He cited President Hoover's message referring to the need of protecting lagging manufacturing industries, as well as agriculture, and said Republicans on the Finance Committee had rewritten the House measure upon the theory that "all Americans are equal."

BORAH'S STAND

The unbridled speech of the Idahoan came at a point in consideration of committee amendments to the administrative sections of the bill when such a move was least expected. It served to emphasize the dissension of the western and northwestern farm state Senators with the bill. Earlier, Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, had announced he would confer with other Senators from the Northwest over the treatment accorded lumber, shingles, logs, wool, manganese, fruits and nuts in the bill.

"This bill," said Borah, "is not enacted in justice to the agricultural interests. Some of us believe the time is at hand when agriculture must take a stand if it is to benefit from the protective-tariff system."

Borah agreed the farmers got all they asked in the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Act of 1922, but those representing them, he said, made the mistake of acquiescing at the same time to increases in industrial levies. The "disparity" between agriculture and industry resulting from that bill, he argued, will be continued by the pending measure.

"With industrial profits increasing, with exports increasing and imports decreasing," he continued, "we have on the other hand the constantly falling income and profits of agriculture."

He placed the earnings of the steel industry for the first six months of 1928 at 80 per cent above the corresponding period of 1923 and said:

PLEDGE DEFENDED

"Senators, this is the condition of an industry which has asked and is receiving additional protection in this bill."

Rising in defense of the bill, Senator Reed said anyone who works on a tariff bill must expect some criticism, but it is time to call a halt when the complaint deals primarily with generalities and few specific causes.

"We hear an abundance of sneers," he said. "Pretended conversations are recited indicating callousness on our part toward the farmer."

"I want to assure the Senator," he asserted, looking at Borah, "that no Republican pledge has been forgotten in this bill."

He thereupon read from party pronouncements that suffering industries as well as depressed agriculture should be given tariff relief, and said it is only on that principle that the tariff framers worked in proposing increases.

He cited the metals schedule as an example where rates not only were lowered below those recommended by the House, but under present duties.

"No farmer on earth has the comforts and luxuries that the American farmer has today," he said, mentioning paved roads, automobiles, radio and electric light.

NATION'S DAY CELEBRATED BY MEXICO

One Hundred and Eight Independence Anniversary Brings Portes Gil Speech

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 16. (P)—Mexico rang today with celebrations by its population, joyously observing the one hundred and eighth anniversary of Mexican independence. Throughout Central America, in Guatemala, Salvador, Costa Rica, Honduras and Nicaragua, the day likewise was a national holiday, marking the anniversary of freedom from Spanish rule.

"The Mexican army no longer is the destroyer of liberties but is the servant of the country and a loyal supporter of its institutions and laws," declared President Portes Gil, in his holiday address to troops based on Valbuena Military Field.

"The army today is made up of patriots and men of honor. No longer is it the undisciplined horde that in the past was the instrument of force and treason."

The celebrations began yesterday and throughout the night the streets of the capital were thronged with merry-makers. The main event of today's program was a parade of 14,000 troops through the principal streets, including a review by the President.

Vocational Program Introduces New Order Into Class Rooms

ROME, Sept. 16. (P)—Many thousands of Italian children attending school today for the first time were confronted with a new set of the ever changing conditions under the Fascist regime.

Most of the changes centered around the increased importance given to schools for industrial, agricultural or commercial training. Pupils who have passed through the fifth grade are given the opportunity of choosing courses. They can continue through the eighth grade taking ordinary academic subjects, or they can go immediately into vocational or commercial careers. Any pupil 10 years of age can enter a vocational training school.

SENIOR SENATOR BACK IN CAPITAL

California Again Served by Full Representation

Johnson in Angry Mood Over Henchman's Decapitation

Stand on Tariff Bill Vote Arouses Apprehension

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (Exclusive)—For the first time since the Senate started revising the tariff California at last has both its Senators on the job in Washington. Senator Johnson reappeared on the floor this afternoon, having returned Saturday from an all-summer vacation in California.

Senator Shortridge has been here throughout the summer, working with the Finance Committee to get into the bill the increased tariff duties needed to protect California interests.

Although Johnson returns a stranger to the intricate tariff situation, his coming presumably means one more vote for the agricultural rates in which California is chiefly interested and there may be times when this additional vote will be needed to save a particular schedule. It also means one more vote for the bill on final passage, but just how Johnson will perform on the administrative features of the legislation is the subject of speculation.

STAND UNCERTAIN

No one is at all certain that he will support the administration forces in the struggle to retain the Senate provision giving the President authority to raise or lower rates to meet changing world conditions, or that he will side with the Republican regulars in the contest over the basis to be used in setting the valuation of imports. That he will, however, support the agricultural rates proposed in the bill was indicated two weeks ago when the wired Senator McNary of Oregon, chairman of the Agricultural Committee, asked that McNary "pair" him as he saw fit, if the Senate started voting before he got back to Washington.

Although Senator Johnson could hardly afford to oppose the tariff bill, considering the state California has in it, some observers believe that his well-known antagonism for President Hoover will find expression in any state here and there at the administration sections of the measure. President Hoover, to date, has received only reluctant support from Johnson, and some at all except when Johnson found it personally expedient to support him.

VIEW FOR JOHNSON

The situation between them is the same as it was in the campaign last fall when Johnson told newspaper correspondents at Palo Alto that he was for Hoover for President "because I am a candidate for the Senate." They have had no social relations since Hoover entered the White House and this condition did not speed Johnson's return to the capital from the recent recess.

Senator Johnson came back to Washington in an angry mood because one of his supporters, John P. McLaughlin, is being ousted as Collector of Internal Revenue at San Francisco and the post is to be turned over to Alf Otfield, an anti-Johnson man. Before leaving California Johnson announced that when he got here he would investigate the matter thoroughly, but he made any move in that direction today it was not detected.

Senator Shortridge reiterated his belief that Otfield would be confronted "without serious opposition." The collectorship at San Francisco is a Presidential office and Senator Johnson may not care to buck President Hoover openly on the appointment, since he would get nowhere.

The Senate Finance Committee has not yet met to consider the Otfield nomination, but may do so some time this week.

LEGION AIR DATA TELL PROGRESS

Survey for Convention Shows 6442 Fields Now in Use Over Country

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Sept. 16. (P)—The past twelve months have seen the greatest aeronautical development in the United States of any similar period since men began to fly, according to a report of the American Legion's national aeronautics committee, prepared for submission to the Legion's convention which opens here the 30th inst.

The report, made public today, said that two-thirds of the thirteen specific recommendations of the San Antonio convention of the Legion last year have been carried out, the remaining one being a suggestion that legislation be enacted to create a separate promotion-and-retirement list for officers of the air corps.

A survey conducted by the committee, of which George E. Love of Oregon is chairman, shows that there now are 6442 flying fields in the country as compared to 1919 a year ago. A total of 8600 communities have been "air marked" through the activities of the Legion, Mr. Love said.

Why confer with an architect before you build a home?

You could easily find carpenters to build a house, and plasterers, plumbers, and electricians to do their part.

But, technical knowledge of design and construction is necessary if you are to have a home that is attractive, and practical.

The architect has acquired this knowledge through years of study and experience. He is a specialist who can give you sound counsel.

As sound counsel is imperative in building a home, so it is important in connection with your attire.

Here, at Harris & Frank, are counselors on correct attire for men... specialists who constantly study style trends, color harmony, and appropriate dress for definite occasions.

It is our responsibility to give sound counsel on the choice of a wardrobe to fit your particular needs, and within your budget, be it small or large.

NEW WAR DEBT PLAN CLARIFIED

Young Agreement Simply Supplements Old One

Dawes Schedule Intended Only as Makeshift

Two Systems Mistaken by Public for Rivals

BY WILLIAM H. FORT

This is the second of a series of articles, based on information derived from authoritative sources, describing the Dawes plan and the Young agreement for international settlements, the subject of the Young agreement, and the relationship of the two plans and the Dawes plan to the United States and other nations.

(Copyright, 1933, by the Chicago Daily Tribune. All rights reserved.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 13. (Exclusive)—The misconception has arisen that the newly formed Young plan for reparations payments is a rival, so to speak, of the Dawes plan, which it supplants.

In various financial journals have appeared articles and editorials to this effect, asking why it was not possible to revamp the Dawes plan to include the new provisions embodied in the Young agreement and allow the existing machinery to continue to function.

ABILITY TESTED

All that the Dawes plan said, all it was intended to say, was: "Germany owes an enormous amount of money. Her currency is weak. We must see what can be done to restore this currency, and stipulate on behalf of her creditors what in our opinion is a fair amount for Germany to pay annually. We will set what we consider a fair amount, and what Germany then does and does not do will show us the extent of her ability to pay and her willingness to meet her obligation."

It was recognized at the time the Dawes plan was put into effect that another and more specific plan would have to be formulated later. Indeed, the Dawes plan was put into effect largely for the purpose of accumulating data which, in later years, would be useful in establishing a new plan.

As a matter of fact, it is explained, the Young agreement could not have been set up five years ago; it could not have been devised without the data which the Dawes plan furnished, data which the reparations experts used at the Paris conference as a working basis for the present schedule of payments.

BAYONET REMOVED

In this connection it would be remembered that, until the Dawes plan went into effect, payments by Germany were made at the point of the bayonet, so to speak, but with the Dawes plan in operation Germany made her payments without compulsion.

Under the terms of the Dawes plan Germany was required to deposit her reparations payments in marks to the account of the agent-general acting as a representative of all the creditor nations. There Germany's responsibility ended. From that point on all responsibility was taken by the Allies through the agent-general. Under the present plan Germany agrees to assume the full responsibility of her debts.

Under the Dawes plan the amount of the annual payments was fixed, but there was no limit regarding years. There was no certain indication of what the total of the payments would be. Therefore, at no time could Germany calculate with any degree of accuracy what her economic status would be in future years.

In some respects the terms of the Young plan are to Germany's advantage and in some respects more stringent. In making up the new schedule the experts adopted the attitude that Germany's economic position had become sufficiently established, and her stability well enough demonstrated by the workings of the Dawes plan to entitle the Reich to be regarded as a solvent entity.

PAYMENTS LISTED

Therefore, under the Young plan, Germany is required to make her payments, not in marks, but in the currencies of the countries to which she is indebted. To offset this the number and the amount of the payments are fixed and definite, and the total payable annually is substantially reduced. They are listed for every year, giving Germany the assurance that by 1928 her debts will be paid, and the safeguard of an institution—the Bank for International Settlements—to which, in times of stress, she may apply for assistance.

Germany's affairs under the Dawes plan were becoming burdensome. Her creditors were requiring her to pay enormous sums, with no time limit fixed for the end of the payments. Therefore, in planning the new agreement, the first and most obvious move of the reparations experts, if a new order of things was to be established, was to contrive some way to put Germany on an easier, better-paying basis.

The same problem confronted them, only on a much larger scale, about when the machinery was to be set to work to reorganize some of her business after a period of constructive experiment and place the Reich on its feet as a going concern. As a means to this end the Bank for International Settlements was set up.

BANDITS MARK DOWN PRICE ON SENATORS

ATHENS (Greece) Sept. 16. (AP)—Senator Hadjilakis of the Greek Senate and five companions, including an officer of the gendarmerie, who recently were captured by bandits, were released today after payment of ransom. The bandits demanded 5,000,000 drachmas (about $50,000), but accepted 500,000 drachmas (about $5,000).

HENRY FORD GOES BACK TO OLD SEAT IN SCHOOL

DETROIT, Sept. 16. (AP)—Henry Ford went back to school today and sat in the seat where more than half a century ago he learned his first lessons. Beside him was Dr. Edsel A. Riddiman, who shared the seat with Ford as a boy.

It was in the old Scotch settlement school built in 1861, which Ford has moved to the historical village he is building at Dearborn, and which he has made part of the Dearborn school system.

Ford, with Mrs. Ford, Edsel Ford and two of the latter's children, came to see the school reopened for a group of thirty-two selected pupils who will receive instruction in the first, second, third and fourth grades. Among the pupils are Catherine and Carroll Bryant, nieces of Mrs. Henry Ford.

INSURANCE SUITS LOST BY THREE PLAINTIFFS

FRESCOTT (Ark.) Sept. 16. (AP)—Three War Risk Insurance cases called in Federal District Court here this morning were acted upon unfavorably to the plaintiffs. The case of Roy L. Davenport was dismissed without prejudice on motion of his attorneys, Judge Jeremiah Neterer of Seattle, who is presiding for Judge Fred C. Jacobs, dismissed as without cause the suits of Jacob Young and Thomas Sewell. This leaves a total of fourteen similar suits in the present calendar.

CHICAGO-NEW YORK GRAIN BROKER DIES

CHICAGO, Sept. 16. (AP)—Luther S. Dickey, 48 years of age, Chicago and New York grain broker, died suddenly yesterday at his home. He had been ill a week from diphtheria. Dickey was a member of the New York Stock Exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade. Since the beginning of the year he had been a partner in the firm of Thompson & McKenna and previously had been a member of the firm of McKenna & Dickey. He leaves his widow, a daughter and two sons.

HAGUE GROUPS MEET IN PARIS

Reparation Committees in Last Stage of Work

PARIS, Sept. 16. (AP)—Three technical committees provided for by The Hague reparations conference met here today to undertake the last phase of the work of settling Europe's postwar troubles.

When the experts of these three bodies will have agreed on the way to make German deliveries in kind fit in with The Hague agreement, on how to settle the outstanding balances between Germany and her creditors and on how to regulate differences in reparations due from Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria, The Hague conference will meet again formally to conclude its business.

They also must settle the amounts owing to Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria for state property ceded to certain of their successor states.

The Danger in Light Lunch

Who would have suspected the light lunch as a source of digestive trouble? Yet scientists tell us that such a meal often lacks certain elements needed to help assimilation. And in time chronic indigestion results, unless we observe a simple precaution.

To promote good digestion, every meal should be rich in vitamins. Food authorities tell us that the usual diet often does not contain enough of Vitamin B. A deficiency in this element is more often the cause of chronic indigestion than the so-called "indigestible" foods.

If we always ate the right foods, and the right amount of them, we could get all the Vitamin B we need. But the light lunch means does not usually permit a choice of all needed elements. To protect us from the dangers of Vitamin B deficiency, therefore, scientists have perfected a delicious food which can be used in any diet. It is called VEGE.

The 20th Century Limited long since ceased to be a "train." It is a daily fleet of trains. In the past year this famous standard bearer of New York Central passenger service has been operated as 2153 trains and has carried 240,000 passengers.

In order that the Century fleet may be of still greater service, it will be operated, on and after September 29, in two divisions—the Advance Century and the Century. This will give two arrival and two departure hours of this famous train in both New York and Chicago.

A new 20-hour train, with complete Century equipment and service, will supplement the Centuries. This de luxe limited, following the Century fleet out of both Chicago and New York, will be named The Commodore Vanderbilt, in honor of the founder of the New York Central Lines.

The popular Wolverine (via Michigan Central), de luxe equipment, will also be made a 20-hour train in both directions. In addition there will be the morning 20-hour Fast Mail from Chicago to New York.

This great fleet of nine 20-hour trains will be supplemented by seven trains making the run in 21 hours or less—four from Chicago to New York—Pawnee Avenue Special, the Mohawk, Lake Shore Limited, and North Shore Limited (via Michigan Central), and the westbound—North Shore Limited (via Michigan Central), Cleveland Limited, and the Iroquois.

With the inauguration of this additional fast service the New York Central Lines Great Steel Fleet between New York and Chicago will comprise 34 through Pullman trains—including 16 limiteds making the run in from 20 to 21 hours—greatest fleet of fast long-distance trains operated on any railroad in the world.

AN OPEN LETTER
To Thoughtful Parents:

The San Diego Army and Navy Academy was founded Nov. 23, 1910 with 15 day students. Last year the aggregate enrollment was 408. The number of accepted applications for the coming session already received is nearly 400, which will indicate a total for the 1929-30 session between 450 and 500 cadets—a phenomenal growth.

These figures are not given in idle boasting but in a spirit of gratitude and appreciation of the loyalty and continued support of the Academy by thoughtful, discriminating parents and that support will continue to come to a school which studies the needs of the individual boy and maintains consistently high standards of academic and military instruction, a school which maintains discipline with a real heart interest back of it.

Our 35 acre campus, splendid buildings already erected and being erected, the new lined swimming pool—all will add much to the pleasure of a boy's school life. I shall be glad to meet today and tomorrow any parents who may be still interested in school.

Very truly yours,
THOMAS A. DAVIS

PEACE OFFICERS HEAR GOVERNOR

Young Advocates Plan For Intermediate Prison

Webb Accuses Sob Sisters of Aiding Crims

Trager, Pitts and Others
at Oakland Meeting

OAKLAND, Sept. 16. (Exclusive)—The proposed intermediate prison to be established somewhere in Southern California for first offenders between 18 and 24 years of age, will be a great aid in solving the numerous problems of crime prevention.

Gov. Young, who made the statement today at peace officers from every part of the State gathered here for the joint annual convention of the Sheriff's Association, Peace Officers' Association and the Women Peace Officers of California, said of the corrective institution to be established:

AIMS AT REFORM
"We believe this will be the kind of an institution that will reform and make over many young law breakers. In an institution of this kind, youngsters will not be made into hardened criminals by association with habitual criminals.

"The State of California has a high record for reforming young law breakers. Our two reform schools at Whittier and Preston have done fine work in this respect."

Atty.-Gen. Webb, in an address stinging with rebuke at "sob sisters" who sympathize with criminals declared:

"They are as bad as the criminals themselves, for they aid and abet crime by their sympathy. The 'sob sisters' think only of the criminals who are about to be hanged or imprisoned and give him or her sympathy or thought to the person or persons who have been injured, robbed or killed by the criminal."

TRAGER SPEAKS
William I. Trager, Los Angeles county sheriff, discussed the benefits of road camps for prisoners, dwelling upon the good which they accomplish for law-abiding citizens by being put to work on highway construction.

Other speakers at the day's session, which launched the convention at the Hotel Leanington, included Byron Pitts, District Attorney, Los Angeles county; James E. Davis, Chief of Police of Los Angeles; Daniel O'Brien, former Chief of Police of San Francisco; Duncan Matthews, ex-chief of detectives and present treasurer of San Francisco; John L. Davis, Mayor of Oakland; and Donald Marshall, Chief of Police of Oakland.

Mrs. Burton F. Becker, wife of the Alameda county sheriff, and Mrs. Donald L. Marshall, wife of Oakland's Police Chief, are official hostesses to the women's gathering, in which leading parts are being taken by Marie E. Dinamo of Los Angeles and Mrs. A. C. Peffer of Oakland, both of whom are policewomen.

France Denies Replacements in Rhineland
PARIS, Sept. 16. (AP)—London reports to the effect that French troops will replace British troops in the Rhineland as the British evacuated their posts were denied by the Quai d'Orsay today.

It was explained that the stories published in London and repeated in Paris had as their basis only the plan for the Rhineland high commission to transfer its offices from Mayence to Wiesbaden, where it would naturally have a small military establishment befitting its dignity.

RUBIO SAYS OPPOSITION TO REVOLT

Charge of Plot Made by Administration Against Vasconcelistas

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 16. (AP)—The open charge that the Anti-Re-electionist party is plotting a revolution was made today by Pascual Ortiz Rubio, national revolutionary party Presidential nominee, in a speech after his return from a campaign tour in Northern Mexico.

He asserted that the Mexican rebellion of last spring really was provoked by the Anti-Re-electionist party and that the latter, realizing they would have no chance in fair elections, continued plotting.

The elections have been set for November 17. The Anti-Re-electionist nominee is Jose Vasconcelos, who now is campaigning in the north. Recently partisans of the rival candidates clashed in the streets of Tampico and two were killed.

On his arrival in Mexico City yesterday Ortiz Rubio was greeted by about 40,000 of his partisans who escorted him through the streets.

Alienist Says Woman Bank Robber Sane

NEW BRAUNFELS (Tex.) Sept. 16. (AP)—An alienist originally employed by the defense testified tonight he believes Mrs. Rebecca Bradley Rogers, Texas woman bank robber who is on trial for robbery with firearms, was sane when she robbed the Farmers' National Bank of Buda, Tex., in 1927.

Dr. Joe S. Wooten of Austin, star rebuttal witness for the State, testified he examined the defendant, at the request of her attorneys, between seven and ten times, and that in his opinion she robbed the bank because she needed the money to meet obligations.

Introduction of technical testimony attesting to the insanity of Mrs. Rogers was completed and defense counsel rested their case today.

LIFE OF KING PUBLISHED

Soldier Writes Study of British Monarch That Shows
Due Reticence and Good Taste

LONDON, Sept. 16. (AP)—The life of King George V, by Sir George Arthur, published today by Jonathan Cape, is certain to arouse much lively but probable amiable gossip around many a dinner table and in many club smoking rooms. The disadvantages under which a biographer labors when attempting the life of a living person, let alone so august a personage as his present Britannic Majesty, are obvious.

The genial soldier, who has written an engaging study of Lord Kitchener, appears to have appreciated in his latest efforts the necessity for due reticence and to have avoided the temptation to fill out his book with passages of mere laudatory eulogy. The earlier chapters describing His Majesty's life before his accession to the throne make pleasant reading.

IN WARM WATER
It is when Sir George comes to discuss the King in relation to the armed forces of the crown that he appears to step into disputable territory.

He incidentally points out that only lately he had heard His Majesty assume the rank of field marshal.

"There took place consequently the unique situation of a field marshal presenting himself at the palace and solemnly requesting His Majesty to include himself in his number."

Sir George proceeds to describe what he deems is the soldier's complaint about the constitution of the kingdom; that the monarch is not absolute enough.

This complaint, says Sir George, has freely vented after the war, when states were in the melting pot.

"If it had only been a question of adherence to the army it might have been comparatively easy at that moment to set up an absolute dictatorship. The talk in barracks rooms struck the note of unwavering loyalty, not to the principle of the constitution, but to the person of the King."

BARRACK GOSSIP
This barracks-room gossip, irresponsible but significant, ran on two lines, Sir George writes—"Why don't the King chuck the lot (meaning the politicians) and use the troops to run the country?" or else "why don't Hal go down and offer the army to the King? We'd soon show them what's what. They were wild words which even head-headed men flushed with victory knew could never be in any sense effective."

Sir George acknowledges there have been bad kings in England, as elsewhere, but he declares the fact remains that England is indisputably a constitutional monarchy and because of this national instinct "we can smile smugly at Communist breathings."

Now 60 years of age, Sir George Arthur has a number of other biographical works to his credit. Besides the life of Lord Kitchener, he wrote the life of Lord Wolseley in collaboration with Sir Frederick Maurice; translated the memoirs of Raymond Poincare and wrote the life of the Duke of Devonshire in the Egyptian campaign of 1882 and in the South African war, and was private secretary to Lord Kitchener during the World War.

Witnesses Block Ship-Crash Quiz

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16. (AP)—The Federal inquiry into the collision between the Panama Pacific liner Virginia and the Norwegian freighter Hermion in the Golden Gate Saturday was adjourned late today by Steamboat Inspectors Joseph Dolan and Frank Turner after captain and crew of the freighter declined to testify on the grounds that their craft is of foreign registry and not under the jurisdiction of local inspectors.

Kidnaped Man Chained to Bed

DETROIT, Sept. 16. (AP)—Chained to a bed in an apartment where he had been held by kidnapers who received $5000 for his release but were unable to free him because they were captured by police, Matthew Holdreth, Jr., 34 years of age, son of a restaurant proprietor here, was found today this afternoon.

His kidnapers, police said, were Edward Dills, 26, and Frank Mohler, 34, who were arrested Sunday night after a running pistol battle with police.

PANAMA CANAL DAM APPROVED

Good Takes Action to Stave Off Traffic Jam

Structure, at Alhajuela, Will Cost $12,000,000

Sanction Follows Meeting
With Gov. Burgess

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Forecasting the day when the capacity of the Panama Canal will be taxed by commerce of the nations, Secretary Good has taken steps to stave off the traffic jam by approving the erection of a $12,000,000 dam at Alhajuela, Canal Zone, to provide additional storage water.

Recognition of the need for additional water has followed a conference here at which Gov. Burgess of the Canal Zone told Secretary Good that the annual water shortage is threatening the rapidly growing traffic over the waterway four months out of the year. The secretary approved a suggestion made by the Governor that $2,000,000 be asked of Congress in December to begin immediate construction of the dam.

In his report for the first six months of 1929 he showed that 3753 commercial vessels passed through the canal carrying 18,631,772 tons of cargo and paying $18,632,644 in tolls, compared with 3658 commercial vessels, carrying 16,846,140 tons of cargo and paying $18,121,750 in tolls for the same period in 1928, which established the previous high record. This does not include United States, Colombian and Panama government vessels, which have free passage.

Gov. Burgess has found it necessary to extend the time of operating the canal from twelve to sixteen hours a day, which increases the capacity from 30,000,000 to about 40,000,000 tons a year.

Written by 3,500 of the World's Most Eminent Authorities

NEW in plan and purpose—entirely recast from cover to cover—the new Fourteenth Edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica is ready. This is the superb "humanized" Britannica which has captured the attention of the whole civilized world.

Three years of intensive effort—the co-operation of 3,500 of the world's foremost authorities—the expenditure of over $2,000,000 before a single volume was printed—these are merely a few high lights in the preparation of the new Fourteenth Edition.

The Last Word in Encyclopaedia Perfection

The new Britannica immediately takes its place as the one pre-eminent American work of reference—the last word in encyclopaedia perfection.

Never has there been assembled together in one enterprise such a wealth of learning as is represented by the 3,500 builders of this great temple of knowledge. All the universities, all the learned professions, all the great industries, all the pastimes have contributed to the mighty sum.

Knowledge For All

It is a law library for the lawyer, a medical digest for the doctor, a universal history for the historian, a commercial university for the business man—and a compendium of all the arts and sciences for the average reader.

Here is "the cosmos between covers." The whole whirling universe is brought within your grasp, obedient to your hand.

Nothing is too profound to baffle it, and nothing too familiar to escape its informing touch. And on every subject it speaks with the same finality and authority.

Remember—this is a new work. Only a small amount of text that could not be improved in any way has been retained from previous editions.

All the World's Treasures of Art and Illustration

Among the many new features that will astonish and delight everyone who turns these pages is the wealth and beauty of the illustrations. This feature alone marks a tremendous advance. All the world's treasures of art and photography have been laid under tribute to adorn and illuminate the text.

"The most exciting book of 1929," asserts a leading critic, and the whole world is echoing that verdict.

This is a Britannica year! Here is your opportunity to join the thousands who will buy this new edition, now, while it is new—fresh from the presses. You owe it to yourself to learn further details regarding this magnificent series of volumes.

Extremely Low Price

And due to the economies of mass production, the price is extremely low—the lowest in fact at which a completely new edition has been sold for two generations! Easy payments if desired—a deposit of only $5 brings the complete set with bookcase table to your home.

FOE TURNS FIRE ON FARM BOARD

Senate Interrogation Will be Conducted Soon

Hostile Members Planning
Broadside at Body

Hoover's Appointees Likely to Stand Grounds

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Representative
WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (Exclusive)—Members of President Hoover's Farm Board are to go before the Senate Agricultural Committee this week, probably Friday, to face interrogation by hostile Senators on the way the new $500,000,000 farm-relief body is carrying out the policies laid down by Congress. Although the hearing probably will be a first-page story as long as it lasts, in the end it will amount to no more than an inconvenience to the Farm Board and an interruption of its efforts to work out a solution of the agricultural problem, for on all sides it is conceded that the board will be confirmed as soon as the Senate has an opportunity to act.

C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, Cal., is one member of the board fortunate enough to have no serious objection raised to his appointment, and it is doubtful that the Senate committee will ask that he appear. The hammer is out chiefly for Alexander Legge of Chicago, chairman of the board, some Senators apparently being unable to understand how the former head of the International Harvester Company could possibly apply unbiased judgment to the farm question. Certain Senators including Brookhart of Iowa, who has repudiated his support of President Hoover and the farm program, want to hold up confirmation of several members of the Farm Board. They also want to browbeat the board, if possible, into putting out larger chunks of the Federal fund for controlling crop surpluses. They are outraged because the conservative board chose to emphasize the building up of orderly marketing through co-operative bodies rather than the buying and holding of crops, as the farm-relief legislation authorized at considerable risk to the Treasury. In short, Brookhart and other farm Senators are up in arms because they now realize that the optional surplus-control provisions were inserted in the bill more or less as a lure to them.

If there are to be any explosions they promise to be due more to the farm commissioners whose nominations have been held up than to the Senators who will put them on the grill. With one or two possible exceptions the board members are business men who, however much some may smile at the term "Hoover patriots," have made a considerable sacrifice in yielding to the President's urging that they enter public service and who are not likely to be awed too much by a Senate committee.

TEAGUE LEADER
Chairman Legge, as head of the International Harvester Company, was receiving a salary of $100,000 a year when President Hoover persuaded him to take the appointment to the Farm Board, and just before that he had turned back a higher salary voted him by his directors. Mr. Legge, it seems, is rather a robust character for the Senatorial piffle-board to deal with.

Another executive figure among the farm-board commissioners is Mr. Teague of California, who laid down the presidency and active management of the California Citrus League and other large corporations to come to Washington for probably 10 per cent of what he has been receiving in salary in private life.

Legge and Teague and most of the others on the board have been accustomed to authority themselves and are reported to be in no mood to be lectured by Senators. The board adopted what it believed to be a sound course in deciding to re-examine the qualifications of the members of the board, there is no secret about the fact the commission came the rejected delegates prepared to resist any attempt to influence the board's policies.

BOARD'S POLICIES
Advocates of the discarded McNary-Haugen plan of farm relief largely make up the Senate Agricultural Committee. From this committee came the rejected delegates proposal for farm relief, which even yet is raising its head in connection with the tariff. For years, the committee credited the qualification fee. At heart, this McNary-Haugen group still is for its old favorite, Senator Brookhart, is not a member, but it is understood the members intend to let him "sit in" and conduct the coming inquiry. Brookhart has a personal grievance hanging over from the time he was thrown out of a farm board session at Chicago several months ago.

The Farm Board's policy now is to lend no money to co-operative marketing organizations or other farm groups until they first have exhausted all other normal means of getting credit, such as that offered by the Federal intermediate credit banks. It is this policy that will be the particular target of attack when the board members face Senator Brookhart. The Iowa is not in favor of any such conservative and discriminating rule. To all intents and purposes his stand is that the $500,000,000 relief fund should be regarded as so much largesse, to be distributed without serious thought as to whether it is ever to be returned to the public treasury. The Farm Board has a different idea. It not only feels that the money should be secured by the safest existing agricultural collateral represented by sound farming methods and good management, but that under any looser system the whole farm relief program would disintegrate into a lary dole to the farmers which would do them no good at all.

ANNUAL CHURCH ASSEMBLY SET

Methodist Episcopal Group
Meets Next Tuesday

Pastors and Laymen Will Gather at Long Beach

Bishop Hughes of Chicago
Scheduled to Preside

More than 400 ministers and hundreds of lay delegates, representing 306 churches with a combined membership of nearly 100,000, are expected to attend the fifty-fourth annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, to be conducted from next Tuesday to the 30th inst., inclusive, at Grace Methodist Church, Long Beach. Dr. Edwin Holt Hughes, bishop of the Chicago area of Methodism, will preside.

On Thursday evening, Bishop Hughes will be given a reception at the Elite Cafe at a dinner to be served under auspices of the Los Angeles Missionary and Church Extension Society. The reception also will be in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Lewis T. Gould, Dr. Gould having just closed his sixth year as superintendent of the Los Angeles district of the Methodist Church. Instead of being reappointed as a district superintendent, there is a strong probability, according to the opinion of his friends, that Dr. Gould will be appointed at the coming conference as pastor of an influential church. Nearly 1000 Methodist preachers are expected to attend the dinner at the Elite next Thursday evening.

NEED FOR REVIVAL

The need for a revival of "the old-time Methodist" was emphasized at the Long Beach conference and the spiritual clarion call will be sounded by Bishop Hughes and other prominent speakers. The conference will open next Tuesday at 9 a.m. with an examination of ministerial students. On Tuesday evening the conference will be organized and Bishop Hughes will be welcomed in addresses by Revs. Franklin W. Robinson and C. B. Dalton.

The sessions on the 25th inst. will open with devotions, to be led by Rev. George B. Cliff. A memorial service will be in charge of Rev. Marie E. Smith and a spiritual message delivered by Bishop Hughes. Reports of district superintendents from Arizona and Fresno will be read.

NUMEROUS FEATURES

Features of the afternoon session on the 25th inst. include reports from officials at the Goodwill Industries and the Plaza Community Center, an address by Rev. Bert E. Smith and a joint session of the Woman's Home and Woman's Foreign Missionary societies. An evangelistic sermon by Dr. D. D. Coals will feature the evening hour.

A business session, district reports and a message by Bishop Hughes will mark the morning session on the 26th inst., while the afternoon session will be featured by addresses by Drs. C. K. Edwards of Pomona College, Dr. Hugh K. Walker of the First Presbyterian Church, Dr. R. B. von Klein Smid, president of the University of Southern California, and John H. Hays, the latter speaking on "Our Work in Hawaii." Lincoln A. Ferris will be the speaker on the evening of the 26th inst.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Reports from committees on radio broadcasting, finance and education will feature the morning session on the 27th inst., while on the afternoon of that date Drs. W. B. Farmer, A. Ray Moore, W. M. Jeffers and other speakers will discuss "The Christian Outlook." On the evening of the 27th inst. "Christian Education" and "The New Christian Adventure" will be discussed, respectively, by Dr. Albert E. Ely and Ralph E. Dittendorfer.

A feature of the conference activities on the afternoon of the 28th inst. will be a trip around the harbor, through the courtesy of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce. The sermon in the evening of the 28th inst. will be by Dr. Irving Benson of Melbourne, Australia.

Services the morning of the 29th inst. will be conducted by Bixby Park. Sessions in the afternoon and evening will be at Grace Church. Third street and Juniper avenue. The session on the morning of the 30th inst. will be devoted to the business and the reading by the presiding bishop of appointments of pastors to their new parishes.

Becker Jurors Ordered Locked Up for Night

Unable to arrive at a verdict on the fate of Fred J. Becker, former principal of a Pasadena school, who is charged with statutory offenses against school boys, the jury, after a three-hour deliberation, was ordered locked up for the night at 10 p.m. yesterday by Superior Judge McComb. Further consideration will start at 9:30 a.m. today.

Becker denied the charges against him and his attorney argued to the jury that Becker has been accused as part of a political attempt to dislodge him from his position. The case has been on trial four weeks.

MRS. BARRY GRANTED DELAY IN MAILS CASE

Mrs. Violet Barry, mother of the boy prodigy, Jack, 9 years of age, who was convicted in Municipal Court on a charge of failure to send her son to a public school, yesterday was granted a week in which to plead a charge of sending obscene matter through the mails. She appeared before United States District Judge James.

CUCKOO CLOCK RESCUES GIRL

Midnight Burglar Evidently Believed It to Be Bangue's Ghost

Miss Genevieve Farris of 951 North Taylor street, 31 Montic, was saved from the burglar's come advances of a burglar at midnight last night when a cuckoo clock thrust its head out of a tiny balcony atop the family clock and squeaked "cuckoo" twelve times.

According to the story told to deputy sheriffs by the girl, she was lying on her bed reading when the intruder crawled through the window and attempted to attack her.

Just then the cuckoo clock cuckooed twelve, however, and the youth became frightened and fled through the window.

"Wonderful Preparation for Varicose Ulcers"

Bangor, Me.—"Some time ago I was in a terrible state where the veins had burst, causing varicose ulcers. Was told I would have to go to the hospital, but I couldn't do that so I tried many different remedies and prescribed treatments, but found no relief. I was very discouraged until I tried Resinol Ointment. I think it is the most wonderful preparation for varicose ulcers, and I wish everyone knew about it. An ulcer is a very stubborn thing to heal, but patience and Resinol Ointment will do the work." (Signed) Mrs. NELLIE E. CURTIS.

NEW BATTLE BEGINS OVER FINN'S WILL

Grandniece Says Offer of $100,000 to Physician
Shows Incompetence

Charging that the incompetence of the late George Lafayette Finn, former Iowa State Senator, is shown by his asserted offering a physician $100,000 to "put him to sleep forever," Mrs. Gladys S. McAfee, of Santa Monica, grandniece of the deceased, yesterday filed an amended will contest.

In the will attack by Mrs. McAfee, Jane Corwin Finn, a niece, and David Burr Luckey, a nephew, as well as Dr. Frank M. Murphy and John M. Dickey are charged with improperly influencing the deceased who is asserted to have been of sound mind when he made his will, the day before he died, January 20, last.

Senator Finn's estate is estimated to be worth nearly $1,500,000. Superior Judge Crall, at a hearing last week, said he would recommend the whole matter to a complete investigation by the District Attorney's office, and possibly the grand jury. The probate hearing was continued until Friday.

"Times" Screen Newsreel Brings Vocal Reporter

A "talking reporter" will soon accompany the Times-Universal newsreel which is becoming an anticipated feature in a growing list of Southern California theaters. The reporter describes the latest news and action while they are shown on the screen. Speeding up has enabled this first all-talking newsreel to present fresh news events in motion pictures as they are still in news. Rapid-fire talk greatly increases the news interest of the film projected and adds far more information than could be conveyed by subtitles.

Some of the all-talking newsreels to be released soon by the Times-Universal newsreel, amplified by the talking reporter, are Carl Lammie conferring at Carlsbad, Germany, with Erich Maria Remarque, author of "All Quiet on the Western Front"; 1,200,000 school children returning to schools in New York; President Hoover congratulating Claudius H. Huston on his election as Republican national chairman; Dr. Hugo Eckener boarding the steamship New York; Col. Theodore Roosevelt returning from his Asiatic expedition and other interesting spot news.

Many of large wreaths and bouquets of flowers and roses, tributes to the memory of James A. Anderson, filled the space between the chancel steps and the altar of St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday morning when more than 800 prominent citizens and friends gathered to pay final tribute to the civic leader who died Friday at the Good Samaritan Hospital.

At the resurrection and the other comforting scriptures were read by Dr. Davidson, rector of St. Paul's Cathedral, who was assisted by the Rev. J. H. Anderson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who was the officiating minister at the funeral. The service was held in the morning at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Anderson was the best of American gentlemen I ever knew, said a friend. He was a man of high character and high ability, and he was a man of high character and high ability.

A Frank Statement By Politz & McDowell

Politz and McDowell established this business nine years ago. During that time they have enjoyed a very successful business and the patronage of the best-dressed men in Southern California.

Both Mr. Politz and Mr. McDowell will separately enter other business fields, details of which will soon be given to the public.

The decision to retire came after fall purchases were made. Our stocks of quality suits and overcoats are practically all new and when all shipments are in will number over 10,000 garments of the finest clothes ever assembled on the Pacific Coast.
We have never sold suits or overcoats in the regular way under $45.00 and then up to $100.00. We think that our fine merchandise at a straight discount of 25 per cent, RIGHT AT THE BEGINNING OF THE NEW FALL SEASON, will be positively the clothing sensation of the year.

During our successful business career we have given our patrons the utmost in service, guaranteeing and standing back of every garment sold, assuring our customers absolute satisfaction.

During this Retiring From Business Sale these sterling principles will be maintained to the end.

The sale begins tomorrow at 8 (not to-

LOS ANGELES COUNTY EXHIBITS READY TODAY

Opening Ceremonies for Great Annual Event This Morning; Lions' Clubs to Frolic

POMONA, Sept. 16.—Ranking with the State Fair at Sacramento, the Los Angeles County Fair opens at 10 a.m. tomorrow for its eighth annual showing. With every available space filled to overflowing, fifty acres covered by permanent buildings and tents being crammed with exhibits from all over the country, the balance of the total of 107 acres of grounds will be utilized for parking purposes together with an additional 100 acres of parking space outside of the grounds.

The opening ceremonies will be brief, Mayor C. C. Caves and city officials being the first through the gates. The party, led by President Charles P. Curran of the fair association, will proceed to the great agricultural tent, and draw aside the large curtains, throwing open to the public the greatest spectacle ever presented here for a six-day run, including Sunday.

A gorgeous Egyptian decorative scheme has been worked out to the minutest detail by Manager C. B. Atterbaugh. It represents an exact replica of the famous Temple of Karnak, most famous of Egyptian ruins, built 1300 years before Christ. Months of research were spent by Atterbaugh and his aides in gathering data for this year's decorative effect, and together with the efforts of bands of artists and decorators, visitors to this year's fair will be greeted in true Egyptian fashion.

In the main tent are included exhibits entered by counties, cities and civic organizations throughout the State, while branching off from the Egyptian temple of wonders is the large automobile tent, housing air-planes exhibited for the first time, beside automobiles and the machinery tent.

POULTRY SHOW LARGEST
Other departments are Junior fair, live stock, women's department, art, stock, rabbits and poultry. The poultry show is said to be the largest this season in the United States, representing a total registration of 1200 choice fowls of all kinds and breeds. Every part of the live-stock department is filled to overflowing and fair officials have had a perplexing problem attempting to provide suitable housing for this branch.

With the opening of the gates seventy-five judges will begin their work of awarding prizes in the 2000 classes for the $75,000 in cash and trophy awards.

Tuesday's program will be featured by a frolic to be staged by 3000 members of sixty Southern California Lions' Clubs. Led by District Governor S. L. Carpenter, they will stage a parade and bring forth many a colorful spectacle, including a parade of floats, bands and floats. The parade will start at 10 a.m. and will be followed by a picnic at the fair grounds, where the children will be given a special opportunity to view the educational and entertainment exhibits.

The day has been dedicated to the following cities, which are expected to send thousands to the fair: Covina, West Covina, Baldwin Park, San Dimas, La Verne, Claremont, San Gabriel, Upland, Ontario, Chino, Walnut and Pomona.

Horse lovers will be treated, the fair management having announced today that, due to a larger number of race entries this year, all races, three harness and three running will be given at the matinee races each afternoon, instead of the usual five, as in past years.

The night horse show, in a more brilliant setting than ever, will present 241 entries, the foremost stables of the United States competing for $20,000 in prizes. There is special interest being shown in the first $1000 sweepstakes award to be contested for during the week. Southland society in even greater numbers than ever before will be an hand.

GAUCHOS TO RIDE
A special feature this year will be a band of five gauchos, fresh from the wind-swept pampas of the Argentine. Riding a special breed of horse, created by Don Tomas Otero, and led by him, these fearless horsemen will show their accomplishments to horsemen of this country. They are said to be with equal in the States. Don Otero stated today that he had created this special breed of horse after eighteen years of experimenting, and felt that he had a real mission to perform in presenting them to horsemen in Southern California.

Perfect weather, moderately warm, has been promised for the week, which has caused observers to predict the largest attendance ever enjoyed by the Los Angeles County Fair. Tomorrow's attendance is expected to exceed 30,000, with the numbers constantly increasing throughout the week.

VENTURA FAIR ENDS; DAY SHORT, BUT FURSE LONG
VENTURA, Sept. 16.—The fifteenth annual Ventura County Fair came to an end last night with the treasury of the fair association $1000 better in receipts for the four-day run this year than for the five days of last year.

John Lagomastro, treasurer, stated that the attendance this year totaled 38,500, approximately the same as last year for the five-day exposition. The 12,000 persons who crowded the fair grounds yesterday constituted the largest attendance for one day at the fair since 1928.

Yesterday was Legion Day at the fair, and approximately 2000 Legionnaires came to Ventura to participate in the dance and picnic contest. Pasadena post drum and bugle corps took first place with a score of ninety-nine out of a possible 100, and was awarded $200 and a trophy. The others who took awards in the contest were:

South Pasadena, second, score, 85, $150 and trophy.
Long Beach, third, score, 80, $100 and trophy.
Beverly Hills, fourth, score, 80, $50 and trophy.

Los Angeles county post, fifth, score 87½, $25 and trophy.
San Bernardino, sixth, score, 85½, $15.
Whittier, seventh, $10. Maywood and Burbank did not place.

PRIZE COW DONS NIFTY RIBBON

She'll be Bow Guest of Next Fair

Miss Patsy O'Grady Poses With Her Entry
Blue-blooded bovine is all dolled up because she has come place to go. She'll be the Southern California Fair to be held at Riverside the 24th to the 29th inst.

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 16.—Tuesday, the 24th inst., the opening day of the Southern California Fair at Riverside, will be a busy one for the thousands of visitors who will arrive from all over Southern California to get their first glimpse of the wonders to be revealed at the fair grounds. Starting with the mammoth parade scheduled for 11 a.m. every minute of every hour has been planned out in advance by the directors, and there will be no idle moments for anyone, it is said.

All children have been invited to attend the fair on the opening day, to be held on the 24th inst., inclusive, under auspices of Howard T. Douglas Post, American Legion of Covina, the gigantic tent which will house the celebration will be erected beginning Thursday, September 19, at 10 a.m. The tent will be erected on the Adams tract adjacent to the city park, Ziegler said.

From present plans, it is predicted that the exposition next week will far exceed the local post's first attempt in staging such an event last year.

There will be more booths and more entertainment, and highlights of each evening's program will be the presence of both State and national executives. Already signifying their intention of assisting at the exposition are Clarence Kincaid of Hollywood, newly elected State commander, John R. Quinn, past national commander, and District Attorney, Burton L. Pitts.

Legionnaires are anxious to make the exposition and carnival a huge success, as proceeds are to be entirely devoted to the building fund in anticipation of constructing a new Legion home.

PROTRACTED ILLNESS FATAL TO MONROVIAN

MONROVIA, Sept. 16.—Final rites for Frank A. Gregory, 59 years of age, who died Saturday at the Monrovia Hospital following a protracted illness, will be conducted tomorrow afternoon.

Born in Iowa, Gregory came here ten years ago. He became well known among boys, especially those in high school, through the medium of his basketball team. Gregory was married to Mrs. Gertrude Gregory, of 224 East Orange avenue. Rev. H. H. Hanson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate, and interment will take place at the Monrovia Mausoleum.

MAYOR PORTER TO BE FEDERATION SPEAKER

INGLEWOOD, Sept. 16.—Mayor Porter of Los Angeles is announced as the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Centinela Valley Church Brotherhood, to be held at the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce tomorrow, Tuesday, evening.

Mayor Lawrence of this city, long active in the affairs of the brotherhood of the First Presbyterian Church here, affiliated with the federation, also will speak briefly and act as master of ceremonies.

Mayors of all other Centinela Valley municipalities will be honor guests. The banquet will start promptly at 6:30 p.m., it is announced by Roy E. Powers, president of the federation.

FIFTY YEARS MEMBER OF LODGE HONORED

VENTURA, Sept. 16.—E. P. Foster, Ventura philanthropist, is to be honored by members of the Masonic order for completing fifty years of membership in San Buena Ventura Lodge No. 216.

A dinner to be served the Masons and their ladies at 6 p.m. tomorrow is to be the occasion for presenting Foster a fifty-year button of solid gold. The dinner will be held at the California Grand Lodge, which has delegated Past Grand Master D. J. Reese to make the presentation. Other talks are to be made by Dr. D. W. Motz, G. W. Chrisman, A. L. Brown and other old-timers of the county.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 16.—Names of more than twenty San Diegans have been obtained by County Detective J. D. Cornell as grand jury witnesses in the pending inquiry into the $27,000 liquor fixing case. Cornell stated today, indicating that the public "would be surprised" when some of the names are made public.

ALHAMBRA MAY DROP MANAGER

Petitioners Urge That City Clerk Take Duties at Much Less Salary

ALHAMBRA, Sept. 16.—An aftermath of the recent shake-up in the police department, by which M. R. Spencer moved down from the position of Chief to that of captain and the detective bureau was abolished, was seen today in the circulation of petitions asking that the office of City Manager be declared vacant. The minimum salary for the City Manager is $2500.

Twenty-five petitions were in circulation. They are addressed to the City Commission and ask that, as a measure of economy and efficiency, the office of City Manager, now occupied by A. E. Stockburger, be declared vacant and that City Clerk R. Bruce Wallace be assigned the special duties of the City Manager at the minimum compensation provided by the city charter.

The petitioners would have the city pay Wallace this amount, in addition to his regular salary as City Clerk. When asked today if he would accept the additional responsibility Wallace declared that if the people so desired he would take the office. The present salary of the City Manager is $7500 a year.

Muriel Boone and Joe Vignone, former detective-lieutenants whose jobs were abolished when the detective bureau last week and who have been threatening to take the matter to the courts, today turned in their resignations. They have a salary with the Mohawk Flute monopoly at an altitude of 1000 feet and crashed to the ground, dying instantly. The crash occurred at 3:30 p.m. According to witnesses, Clark was doing barrel rolls when his plane suddenly nose down into a spin and he apparently was unable to pull it out.

The crash landed in a flower garden at the N. Magallon home, two blocks from the territorial palace where hundreds of people were taking part in patriotic festivities. The place was demolished.

Clark formerly was a member of the Calexico police force. A year ago he joined the motorcycle squad and while there took instruction at the Ryan Field in San Diego. After returning to Imperial Valley as a State traffic officer last fall he purchased his own plane and has been making regular flights from the Imperial County Airport.

Mechanics at Calexico Airport where he took off on his last flight today stated that the plane lost a wheel as he left the ground. Two Mexican army pilots were in the air flying near him when he made the fatal plunge.

Clark leaves a former wife and his mother. His body is being held here while Mexican police make an investigation of the accident.

Wounded Man in Last Gasp Gives Attacker's Name

GUADALUPE, Sept. 16.—Living only long enough to name his assailant, Justino Navarro, Mexican, died here early this morning from bullet wounds. He was 30 years of age, according to reports to Sheriff Ross. Constable Robert Camp and Night Watchman John Salinas reached the victim a few minutes after hearing shots, and declared that he named Garcia in his small sedan. He was described as 30 years of age, five feet, ten inches in height, and weighing 165 pounds. He had been shot in the chest and the reason for the shooting.

PETITIONS OUT FOR HIGHWAY WIDENING

HERMOSA BEACH, Sept. 16.—Petitions asking for the widening of Redondo-Riverside Boulevard, west from Cypress street, and the improvement of Gould Lane as a direct traffic artery to the business district here have been placed in circulation. The cost of the project which traverses county as well as city territory has been estimated at $400,000.

The proposed expenditure would include the cost of the acquisition of a strip approximately ten feet wide along the present street and a grade change on Gould Lane.

FALL CATCH OF ROCK BASS RUNNING LARGE

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 16.—Rock bass of an unusually large size are featuring the autumn run of fish caught here. Many Redondo and Hermosa anglers have brought back large catches of these two varieties as well as numerous mackerel and halibut within the past few days. A record catch of the bass was that of Ted Lena, 14-year-old high-school boy, who landed eight averaging more than twenty pounds each and a pompano in a four-hour fishing yesterday.

MOTOR OFFICER IN ODD CRASH MISHAP

UPLAND, Sept. 16.—One serious highway mishap was reported over the week-end in this district and today Louis Krommeyer of Upland, county motorcycle officer, is in San Antonio Community Hospital recovering from the injuries he received yesterday in the single accident.

Krommeyer and Frank Freeman, both mounted on motorcycles, were hit in pursuit of a motorist on Pothill Boulevard east of here. Evidently the motorist discovered suddenly that he was pursued and brought his heavy machine to an instant stop. Krommeyer didn't expect such a quick end to the chase and in turning out to avoid running into the car struck soft dirt and was hurt from his motorcycle.

He received a broken nose and his left knee was badly lacerated and bruised and his left hand and arm were badly cut and wrenched. Freeman turned off the highway successfully and was not thrown. The motorist took Krommeyer to the hospital.

BANDIT WORKS AT NOON

While Thrilling Mexican Celebrations, Plane Goes Into 1000-Foot Plunge

BUENA PARK, Sept. 16.—This city will be host to flower lovers and dahlia growers at the seventh annual Orange County Dahlia Show, Friday and Saturday, in the Buena Park Masonic Temple, under the auspices of the Buena Park Women's Club.

More than 100 prizes and ribbons are being offered for the best varieties, colors and sizes of dahlias, as well as the most artistic display of any kind of cut flowers arranged and exhibited by grammar-school children. Prizes for all first awards are offered by the Orange County Nurserymen's Association.

Silver cups and trophies are offered for best exhibit in one respective category by a garden club. The show will be under the direction of Mrs. John Q. Burch, whose husband is one of the most successful amateur dahlia growers of the State.

Free admission, whose garden talks over radio KJH have a wide audience, will give a talk on dahlia culture on the opening day of the show.

Entries must be in the hands of Mrs. Lyle K. Dix, entry clerk, by Wednesday, according to Mrs. Hubert Kottmeyer, assistant director of the annual show.

Mr. and Mrs. Burch will enter an exhibit for display purposes only and not as contestants for prizes. The exhibit will open at 1 p.m. on Thursday and the following day at 10 a.m. Both evenings the show will be open until 10 o'clock.

'Rush Act' Tried on Gas Stations

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 16.—The time-worn swindle known as the "rush act" was revived last night when two service station operators were fleeced out of $15 each by two slick fast-talking men, according to police reports.

Officers were summoned by Desmond Hill, of 1116 Castillo street, who complained that two young men appeared at his filling station and after waiting for some time, they suddenly pulled out a check for $15 each and "borrowed" $15 from him and drove away.

A few minutes later police were told that two young men appeared at the Van Fleet, Durkee, Inc. filling station, Anacapa and Figueroa streets and "borrowed" $15.

Bath on Friday, 12th, Gets Meschup Forty Days in Jail

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 16.—Because he went swimming in Sweetwater Reservoir Friday, the 13th inst., and also violated the game laws, August Derque today began serving forty days in County Jail, under sentence by Township Justice Arthur L. Munde. The court fined Derque a total of $200 on five separate misdemeanor counts and ordered him to serve out the fine at the rate of $5 per day.

Game Warden Webb Toms preferred charges against the defendant of having possessed "shore birds" and of having hunted in closed season. Fines of $25 were imposed on each count. Watchman E. E. Wisendanger, at the reservoir, accused Derque of trespass and of hunting in the enclosure of the Sweetwater Corporation as well as swimming in the lake. The swimming count brought a $100 fine and each of the other counts $25, making the total of $200.

UTILITY YARN FLATTENED

Rumors of Attempts by Eastern Groups to Combine Coast Companies Generally Discredited

BY EARLE E. CROWE
Not much credence is given in the West to the supposition in the East that public utility holding companies are bidding for the control of Southern California Edison, Pacific Gas and Electric, Pacific Lighting and other coast utilities. The most recent conjecture along this line was inspired the other day by the offer to stockholders in these companies by the Public Utility Holding Corporation of America.

This is the second time that such an offer to exchange stock has been made to stockholders in coast utilities by investment trusts. The Bluebird Corporation, organized by Goldman, Sachs & Co., initiated this innovation in the acquisition of desirable stocks and immediately the stock market jumped to the conclusion that the Bluebird offer was motivated by ideas of control.

NEW NAME FOR FINANCE SUBSIDIARY

Elliott-Horne to Become Pacific Company; Scope is Made Broader

Following the recent action on the extension of the Elliott-Horne Company's operations into the investment banking field, Francis S. Baer, who became president of the enlarged concern, yesterday announced that the company had changed its name to The Pacific Company. Subject to legal procedure, the paid-in capital and surplus of the Pacific Company will be in excess of $4,000,000, Mr. Baer said.

The new investment organization, Elliott-Horne Pacific Company, will continue to operate and expand the municipal improvement bond business which has been the company's principal activity since its formation in 1924. The Elliott-Horne Company since its founding in 1904 and in which field it has established a leading position on the Pacific Coast, according to Mr. Baer.

Operations will also be extended to permit the company to engage in all branches of investment banking and to make it an important factor in the underwriting and distribution of investment securities. Mr. Baer said. Future development of the company in the opinion of its officials will contribute to the increased assets and earnings of Pacific Finance Corporation.

The Pacific Company has installed a stock brokerage department in charge of Sidney A. Briggs and has become a member of the Los Angeles Stock and Curb Exchange. It will shortly occupy the entire ground floor of the Pacific Finance Building, which is located in Oakland, San Diego and Long Beach.

The Elliott-Horne Pacific Company was organized yesterday, occupying temporary quarters in the recently completed Tower Building on Wilshire Boulevard just east of La Brea Avenue. J. E. Hay, manager of the branch and V. V. Browning is assistant manager. It was announced by George L. Browning, president of the financial institution.

"Hundreds of new accounts in the Wilshire District necessitated the opening of this branch, which will be housed in its own home at the corner of Wilshire Boulevard and Dunsmuir street after January 1," said Mr. Browning. "The new building will be a modern and commodious branch banking homes on the Pacific Coast."

LIST OF HUGE BANKS GROWS

Latest Addition Made Through Merger of New York Seaboard National and Equitable Trust

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR
[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]
NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Another $800,000,000 bank has just been created in the merger of the Equitable Trust Company and the Seaboard National Bank, both of New York.

Eight banking offices in New York are announced, with four new offices to be opened in a few months. In addition the Equitable Trust Company already has offices in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Atlanta, Chicago, Dallas, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Boston and Washington; and branches in London, Paris, Mexico City, Hongkong, Shanghai and Tientsin, China.

The Seaboard National Bank was the Erie Railroad as a clerk. At 35 he entered the banking business with the Columbia Trust Company of New York, moving up to vice-president before resigning to become president of the Mercantile Trust Company, which he helped organize in 1917. When this company was merged with the Seaboard five years later, Mr. Austin became president. And so the financial channels continue to "broaden and deepen."

Pierre S. Du Pont of Wilmington, Del., chairman of the Du Pont Company and the General Motors Corporation, carries the largest amount of his insurance in the United States. His personal insurance now totals $7,000,000.

But he is only one of 312 men and women in the United States and Canada who carry policies of $1,000,000 or more.

Among women carrying large policies are Mrs. Henry C. Taylor of Cincinnati, $3,250,000; Mrs. Mollie Newbury, Chicago, $3,000,000; Mrs. E. G. Burkham, St. Louis, $3,000,000; and Mrs. Marshall Field III of Chicago, $3,300,000.

Today more than $100,000,000,000 insurance is carried in the United States. Insurance men say this figure will be doubled in the next ten years.

Call Money in Good Supply at Steady Rate

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—The bull party once more regained control of the price movement on the stock market today. Last week's bearishness appeared for a time in the morning, but the stream of selling quickly dried up and shorts hurried to cover.

Operations for the advance felt that the distress selling in evidence last week had been largely completed, and that the time was ripe for renewed operations. The pace of trading slackened, however, as 4,300,000 shares changing hands, as contrasted to more than 5,000,000 last Friday, and traders regarded this as a good sign.

The heavy turnover of funds in connection with the Treasury refinancing and income-tax payments, involving shifting of some $1,000,000,000, was accomplished without causing any notable repercussions in the call money market. Call loans were available at 7 1/2 per cent all day. There was some disappointment that the Treasury overdraw in connection with its new financing did not bring about temporarily easier credit conditions. Banks called meriting your consideration

CORPORATE TRUST SHARES

A fund trust based upon 28 outstanding American common stocks. Had you invested $25,000 in this trust in 1913 (assuming its existence at that time) and reinvested all proceeds, your investment would be worth over $345,000 today.

BANK INDUSTRY SHARES

A fund participating interest in common stocks deposited of 28 leading American corporations, with $30,000,000.00 in assets. Average annual cash yield and appreciation of deposited stocks for past 4 1/2 years has exceeded 16%.

BANK STOCK TRUST SHARES

A fund based upon common stocks of 30 world-renowned New York banks. Average annual appreciation and cash income of deposited stocks since 1923 has amounted to 49.11%.

STANDARD OIL SHARES

A fund trust composed of common stocks of 31 Standard Oil companies. Cash yield and market appreciation of this trust for year ended June 30, 1929, amounted to 37%—in the face of depressed conditions in the oil industry.

CATTLE—About half of yesterday's supply came from Arizona, Utah, Idaho and Wyoming. Mostly from the Utah-Idaho section. The balance was from California points. The market on steers was only moderately active at having steady prices. Instances of weakness developed on high steers, including Ariz-onans. The low stock market was active at fairly steady prices. Bulls were steady to strong.

Head of low good 800-pound
Southern California feed-steers topped 11.00. While a head of good 800-pound Nevada made 11.75. The next best price was 11.50 for a head of medium steer from 11.00 to 11.50. Other steers cleared from 10.00 to 11.00. The calves were paid for a head of plain Dakota. Instances of weakness developed on high steers of California as well as a few heads of Arizons as well as a few heads of calves. Steers were steady at a late hour.

Head of heavy topped at 10.00 with red but from 10.00 to 10.50. While a head of Arizona at 8.25. Cows were paid from 7.00 to 8.00. The milk cows around 8.00. The bulk of medium and heavy cows cleared from 8.00 to 8.50. Common cows cleared from 7.00 to 8.00. A few heads of Arizons as well as a few heads of calves. Steers were steady
at a late hour.

THE WEATHER

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Sept. 16.—(Reported by H. R. Hertzberg, Meteorologist.) At 5 a. m. the barometer registered 29.95, temperature 64 degrees, wind light, and 72 degrees. Relative humidity, 75 percent. At 10 a. m. southeast, velocity 1 mile; 2 p. m. southeast, velocity 2 miles; 5 p. m. light, variable, 10 degrees. Rainfall for month, none, normal to date, 20.40 of an inch; last season, 4.46, 1938, 20.40 of an inch; normal, 20.40.

WEATHER CONDITIONS Sept. 16. Light to moderate showers have occurred during the past twenty-four hours in the South Atlantic and Gulf States and in the Lake Superior region and in Minnesota and the Colorado and in Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. Temperatures were considerably below normal in the upper Mississippi Valley and in Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado but moderate temperatures were reported generally in other portions of the country. In Southern California fair warm weather prevailed yesterday. Temperatures were above normal in the interior. It was clear this morning except near the coast where fog or clouds were reported at most stations. Temperatures were a little above the normal at Los Angeles and vicinity. Tuesday's normal or average may be expected in the morning.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES—Sept. 16. Minimum maximum thermometer readings for Southern California points, reported yesterday by the United States Weather Bureau, were as follows:

The Lancer

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW is warning the world against the return of fashion wherein young ladies will appear to bulge and curve.

George can safely calm his wild alarm. The world can never again get up any immoral curiosity about figures manufactured by the village upholsterers.

Our modern zipper fashions have taken the bluff—and the fluff—out of beauty. It may have been a show; but it has also been a show-down.

HENCE THESE THINGS
J. A. Anderson, the distinguished Los Angeles attorney who died, might have been a multimillionaire; and so might I—had our fathers been able to convince our mothers.

Both our families came here in the late eighties. Old Judge Anderson suggested to my father that our two families buy a ranch and set up a life like the old southern plantations. But our mothers did not share the idea of living on a farm where a wagon went by once in two weeks.

The too-pretty ranch which they rejected is now the Los Angeles district—from Western avenue past Vermont and so to Riverside Drive.

JERITA'S HOT TEMPER
Mrs. Jerita and another had-tempered old lady have staged one of the last rows over a grand opera's dressing-room.

The great financial rewards of grand opera singing is likely to be in talking pictures. And when they get to Hollywood—in competition with all this gorgeous youth and beauty—their cue is to get tame.

During the past year more than one diva has come unceremoniously prepared to "concentrate" to warble—only to take the next train out.

JUST POLES
Lawrence Tibbett, now in jail, is the new type of opera star. He is a good sort with as much operatic temperament as a janitor. Also he is one of the few American singers who has not changed his name to Luigi Spaghetti. He gets along with a name that might fit a gas man.

NATIVE GENIUS HERE!
I wish I belonged to the Friday Morning Club. I have never seen any program that promises so much as the club announcement for this year.

But what is the matter with American brains? Three-fourths, at least, of the lecturers are foreigners—Austin Lewis, Bertrand Russell, Linda de Vries, Carl von Hoffman, Dr. S. K. Haddad, Dr. Alexander Kahn, Hans Werth, Liam O'Flaherty.

DEAR TEACHER'S COMING
The lecture to be given by George Pierce Baker ought to be in the nature of a family reunion. About half the successful scenario writers of Hollywood came from his classes at Yale or Harvard.

A SHOW-OFF
Thornton Wilder, I hope, will explain what entertainment he managed to get out of his walking-tour with that tiresome four-fingered, Gene Tunney. He must have been hard up for exercise. Fighters like Jack Dempsey are often charming and entertaining; fellows, however, can't even a good leg. Somebody taught him to say metacarpal when he meant the bones in his ham-like leg. That lets him out.

Tia Juana Shooting to Bring Demand for Federal Quiz

WOMAN TELLS OF ORDER RIOT

Slugged Brother-in-Law Still Missing

Traffic Crash Spectators Involved in Meles

Mrs. Quibell Held Hours Without Medical Aid

A Federal investigation of a riot in Tia Juana Sunday, last, in which Mrs. Gladys Quibell of 2642 West Fourth street, was shot and wounded and her brother-in-law, who was also shot and wounded, was announced yesterday after treatment at the Georgia Street Receiving Hospital. Her wound is superficial.

The riot occurred, according to Mrs. Quibell, after a traffic accident in the Mexican resort in which, she says, herself nor any of her party were involved. Joe Cutler, her brother-in-law, she asserts, was knocked unconscious by a policeman's blackjack, thrown in jail, and she is unable to get word to or from him.

WOUND NOT ATTENDED
Mrs. Quibell also declares that after she was wounded by a resort policeman's bullet, the wound was not dressed and she was held in jail several hours before her release. Mrs. Quibell stated she was one of a party of seven who went to the Mexican border city on Sunday, the others being her husband, Ben, 39 years of age, and Harold, 4; Cutler and his wife, and William Seitz, who is employed in a restaurant conducted by the Quibells at 811 South Vermont avenue.

Shortly before 8 p.m., Mrs. Quibell said, the party were walking toward their automobile to return home when they heard the crash of an automobile striking a traffic signal post in the center of the street outside the Long Bar. While she remained on the sidewalk with her children, the others walked over to the scene of the crash, where a large crowd was collecting.

Several moments later, she said, she saw two policemen hit Cutler with blackjacks and was rushing toward the scene when one of the policemen drew his revolver and fired one shot, which grazed her arm. It was reported in San Diego yesterday that three Mexicans had been wounded by revolver bullets, two of them seriously, but these reports are denied by Mexican authorities, who declare the injuries of the three Mexicans suffered from police clubs and not bullets.

DESCRIBES MELES
Mrs. Quibell did not know why the policeman attacked her brother-in-law, but she said yesterday the crowd was milling around her and she saw Cutler being roughly shoved about by the policemen. When Cutler was hit, she said, he fell to the ground with blood streaming from his head and face, and Quibell pleaded with the officers not to hit Cutler again. It was at this point, she said, that the policeman drew his revolver and fired.

According to reports from Tia Juana, Juan Arce, the brother-in-law who fired the shot, was forced to fire in self-defense. He said he was being attacked by a mob which consisted mainly of Mexicans.

After the shooting Mrs. Quibell said she saw the policeman take Cutler in an automobile and that is the last any of the party saw of him. She maintains some non-Mexican Mexicans, who said they were policemen, ordered her to get into an automobile and go to the police station with them.

She refused to get into the automobile and walked to the police station, accompanied by her husband. Meanwhile Mrs. Cutler had taken the children and boarded a bus which took them across the border. Mrs. Quibell said the police at first refused to allow her husband to enter with her but they refused to be separated and he remained with her during the four hours that elapsed before she was finally allowed to leave for the border. Meanwhile Seitz was not allowed to enter, waited outside the station house.

At the instance of the police, she said, she wrote out her version of what happened and then was given a translation which was told was a translation into Spanish of what she had written. She does not understand Spanish and refused to sign it. The entire time she was in the station, she said, the police endeavored to get her to sign the paper but she adamantly refused and was finally allowed to go without having signed it.

When she and her husband and Seitz arrived at the border, where she found her children waiting for her in the car of Mrs. Cutler, the latter told her that some Mexican policemen had come to the border and tried to force her to allow them to take the children back to Tia Juana "to be with their mother" but she refused to let the policemen take them.

on no signal. This came from "Knox."

"No arm signal came from the driver of the little car when he attempted a left-hand turn in front of the larger car," so said Wilk.

DAUGHTERS ON STAND
Late yesterday afternoon Miss Carmen Pantages took the stand and testified for her mother.

The 20-year-old girl, dressed in the height of fashion, told of the hospital scene when she rushed to her mother's bedside.

"With John W. Conditine, to whom I am engaged, and my father, we rushed to the hospital when we were notified by telephone that mother had been hurt," Miss Pantages declared.

Then, in a firm, high voice the slender, dark-haired girl told of kissing her mother on her bloody cheek as she lay on the hospital cot.

"My mother was not intoxicated. I could not smell alcohol on her breath," was the answer to questions relative to rumor addressed to Miss Pantages by Max Steiner, New York attorney who, with W. I. Gilbert and Joseph Ford, represent the defense.

When Dep. Dist. Atty. Costello, who, with Jones and Van Cott, is prosecuting the action, took Miss Pantages in hand for cross-examination he was only able to draw out the additional fact that the young girl fainted away while her mother was under the care of physicians.

DIDN'T TIME FAINT
Into the cross-examination of the girl came a little humor when Costello suddenly asked her, "How long were you in the faint?"

And the answer, "I don't know because I didn't time myself," was given by Miss Pantages told her story to the jury, John W. Conditine related to the court his part in the hospital trip and again declared that Mrs. Pantages was not intoxicated and had not been drinking before the accident. He said that he carried her out of the hospital and into her home.

From Mrs. Alice Campbell of Oakland and Los Angeles, the first defense witness of the day, the jury again heard the story of the mystery car which later was cleared up by Lee's testimony and also was told that the Japanese attempted a left-hand turn.

"I was driving behind Mrs. Pantages at Western and Beverly," declared Mrs. Campbell, "and I saw a woman get out of her machine and run toward Mrs. Pantages."

She corroborates the story of Mrs. Bertha F. Jacobs, who early in the defense case testified that she had been riding with Mrs. Pantages and left the car at this point.

In explanation Mrs. Campbell declared that while she did not know Mrs. Pantages personally, she did know her by sight and recognized her when Mrs. Jacobs left her car.

terday morning, John Conditine and Dr. C. A. Macdonald, two of the principal defense witnesses who testified early in the case, were recalled at the request of the prosecution for further cross-examination.

Conditine was asked a number of questions by Costello relative to his actions and statements before he saw anyone connected with the defense and offered them his testimony.

Dr. Macdonald was simply asked if he received any pay from Pantages for his work on the injured woman at the Dickey & Case Receiving Hospital. He answered that he had been given $20.

With the speed that is being shown by the defense with its witnesses the case probably will end, according to courtroom estimates, within two or three days and be in the hands of the jury by the end of the week.

Defense attorneys last night refused to state whether Mrs. Pantages will take the witness stand in her own defense. Indications are, however, that she will not testify to testify, or, if she is, that only a limited number of questions will be put by the defense, which would, in turn, limit the cross-examination.

GILBERT SUES IN YOUNG ESTATE CASE
BAKERFIELD, Sept. 18. (AP)—W. I. Gilbert, Los Angeles attorney engaged as a member of the defense counsel for Mrs. Alexander Pantages today was named with several other attorneys in a civil case of late involving the $2,000,000 estate of the late Charles Young.

The deed was made to the Clara Barton Seagull Foundation and to W. I. Gilbert and Lucy Gilbert as tenants in common. The complaint says nothing was paid for the deed, it was said. The complaint was filed by A. C. Rely of Los Angeles.

The civil suit involving the estate of Charles Young was settled two years ago, according to Attorney Gilbert, when informed last night of the reported filing of the complaint in Bakerfield.

"This is some stale case," Gilbert said, "and I know nothing about any new filing. The case was settled two or three years ago and was widely publicized at that time. Some three months ago I filed the final papers in the action. I have had no notice of any new suit and know of none that might now be started over the Young estate matter."

COSTS CITED
As the result of accepting such high bids the Bedford-Adams Boulevard improvement district job cost the property owners $36,720.85 more than it would have cost, as compared with the prices obtained on the Shennandoah street and Adams Boulevard improvement district.

And, again, in his willingness to pay excessive prices for work on the City Hall.

In his opinion, Mr. Delorey, by his stand in the above stated matters, and others, has shown himself to be without the requisite qualifications to serve on a commission of the improvement.

and that smiles brightened the face of all three defense attorneys when Gay was drawn and accepted, the prosecution being unable to combat the move, it having exhausted all of the charges.

Shuler testified he based his objections to Gay on information contained in letters and from persons on Gay's reputation as outlined to the minister. He also received telephone calls on the same subject, and thus felt justified in making his radio talk.

Briegleb declared that he did not mean to intimate that the jurors had been approached or that he had any concrete evidence of corruption.

BRIEGLEB ON STAND
Briegleb took the witness stand and admitted that he had had a talk with Shuler and that he had voiced the opinion that it seemed peculiar that Gay's name should be "drawn at the psychological moment" and that he thought it would have been "better taste" if Attorney Ford had not approached the clerk's desk at approximately the time the name was being drawn.

However, Briegleb declared that in a sermon later he had said that he believed Gay would bring in a full verdict and that he knew of no instance of corruption.

After Briegleb retired Court Clerk Moore took the stand and explained the procedure of drawing names. He declared that Ford merely was getting the names and addresses of jurors already in the box at the time Briegleb observed him.

Moore, of Department 21, took the stand and testified that Gay's name was on the regular panel in his department and that he saw the name of a juror sent to Judge Hardy's court when the panel in that department became exhausted in the search for acceptable names.

It was testified that Gay began his jury service on the 14th inst.

OTHER WITNESSES
Other witnesses were Defense Attorneys Ford and W. I. Gilbert. Both asserted that they knew of no previous information about Gay, but for a time seriously considered removing his name from the list.

The proceedings were continued by a sharp and humorous encounter between Gilbert and Briegleb. The minister at one point was asking the privilege of reading his entire sermon to the jury.

"What's your interest in the Pantages case, anyway?" demanded Gilbert.

Briegleb asserted that he is "a citizen and a taxpayer" and has a right to demand an impartial trial. "What right have you to jeopardize the liberty of this woman by such assertions as these," continued Gilbert.

"Well, I'll argue the matter with you," began the minister. "If you say 'no,' I'll say 'yes' first," snorted the lawyer, while the courtroom, crowded with lawyers and other notables attracted to the scene, burst into a howl of laughter.

After the first four witnesses had testified, the Bar Association committee announced that it had heard sufficient on which to base its report and desired to hear no other witnesses. Numerous newspaper men with whom Shuler had talked and who had been subpoenaed were not called to the stand.

the purchase and use of cement by the county," said Supervisor C. E. Ralston, "and there is a wide and unaccountable fluctuation in cement prices, both retail and wholesale. This is especially noticeable in the case of cement offered for sale by the San Gabriel Dam, for which the price was at first $2.95 a barrel, and the third time bids were advertised prices had dropped to as low as $1.95 a barrel.

Antwerp, Belgium. I find by investigating freight rates that this cement can be laid down in Los Angeles for $1.95 a barrel and that ocean freight and duties paid.

ESTIMATES GIVEN
"An estimate by E. C. Ralston, food-control engineer, indicates that the county can make its own cement for even less, provided the plant is located near Antwerp, where most of the county's cement for the next five years will be used. We have asked Mr. Ralston for complete estimates on the cost of equipping a 3500-barrel-a-day plant on rock deposits obtained by the county in Antelope Valley.

"It is to the interest of every citizen of the county that the valuable cement rock deposits in the county be developed, if not by a public agency then by private capital. The mine in Riverside and San Bernardino counties are entitled to a fair and reasonable, even a full and handsome profit, but no industry is on a safe basis nor is the public interest protected when such a condition is present as is reflected by the sliding scale of prices at which the county was offered cement for the San Gabriel Dam.

"I feel that by passing this resolution the Board of Supervisors can save the county large amounts of money and perhaps somewhat stabilize the strangely shifting price of cement. If it be true that the county can build a plant and make cement for $1.95 a barrel and that cement based on a plant cost of 78 cents a barrel in Belgium can be laid down on the San Pedro docks at $1.24 per barrel, it is apparent that the Los Angeles cement problem merits and will justify expert examination and analysis in the interest of the taxpayers' pocketbook."

Hollywood Man Accused of Grand Theft

J. R. Jackson Faces Plaint of More Than Score

Inquiry to be Put in Hands of Grand Jury

Robert A. Jackson, Hollywood stock-and-bond broker, who has been sought for several days on charges of grand larceny and false entries checks, was arrested yesterday, local police announced.

While police prepared for his return, Dep. Dist. Atty. D. H. Clark is conducting an investigation into a statement prepared for his return, Jackson, announced yesterday that more than a score of victims have appeared at the District Attorney's office complaining of the broker's asserted questionable transactions.

STATEMENT REFUSED
Clark announced that the investigation has assumed such proportions that after conference with Dep. Atty. Pitts he has been instructed to prepare the matter for submission to the grand jury.

When Jackson, who is 43 years of age, was arrested on the charge, which have their foundations in a statement of the District Attorney, the broker is connected with the disappearance of $100,000 in securities in Hollywood, he refused to make a statement.

Police say the broker has a wife and daughter at 803 Hillcrest Road, Hollywood, and maintained two homes, one at 6233 Hollywood Boulevard.

At present Jackson is charged with grand theft of $100,000 and having a worthless check, both charges taken out of the same transaction. All additional charges are merely under investigation.

Two days ago Miss Irene Dickenson, 23 years of age, of 1207 Bush street, San Francisco, arrived in Los Angeles, looking for employment as a telephone operator. Yesterday the girl was held in the County Jail for investigation, according to her story, simply because she was a friend of M. M. Gloyd, who is under arrest, charged with suspicion of forgery.

Miss Dickenson denied any knowledge of Gloyd's activities, telling the officers that she had accompanied the youth to Los Angeles at his invitation because she had been ill for a year and sought a milder climate.

SEARCH FRUITLESS

Discovery of the car and the report of Andrew McCray, city employee of Pasadena, that a man resembling Connor had approached him near a dump heap in the arroyo and borrowed a cigarette, after making a significant remark about police being "too dumb" for him, caused the widespread man-hunt late Sunday. Roads and underbrush were carefully searched but no trace of the fugitive was found.

PACIFIC AIR TRANSPORT HAS ITS THIRD BIRTHDAY

Another good intelligence test is a third-grade son who says: "Dad, I can't work this one."

If he stares at the tall buildings, he's a rube. The metropolitan never stops to stare at anything except a sign painter or something like that.

Perhaps nature removed man's fur when he no longer needed it, but where did she get the idea that he had no further use for teeth?

Americanism: Scorning the humble who try to scrape acquaintance with you; wondering why you are snubbed when you try to scrape acquaintance with the high.

Words mean little. Once the grown endorser of his wife with all his worldly goods and do get nothing; now he doesn't know her and she gets it all.

Wrightman Cup Team Travels by Plane

MARKING the first time that an international sport team has used airplane travel in this country, members of the British Wrightman Cup tennis team arrived here late yesterday afternoon by Western Air Express from San Francisco. They will participate in the Pacific Southwest tennis championships on the 20th to 25th inst. at the Los Angeles Tennis Club.

Those arriving were Mrs. E. C. Correll, captain of the team and one of the game's greatest doubles players; Mrs. Dorothy Sheppard-Baron, co-holder with Mrs. Correll of many titles; Mrs. Phoebe Watson, women's doubles player; and E. C. Correll, manager of the squad.

The British stars, who defeated California players four matches to one last week are staying at the Hotel Huntington in Pasadena. The fourth member of the team, "Bouding Betty" Nuttall, stayed over to see the sights of San Francisco with her friend, Edith Cross, third-ranking American player. Both will arrive this morning. John Van Ryn, Wimbledon and Davis Cup doubles champion, also will arrive from the East.

Officials of the Los Angeles Tennis Club report every box seat for the tournament sold and the entire west grandstand sold for the final day. Additional stands erected will accommodate altogether about 4500 spectators.

ENROLLING AT SCHOOLS SHOWS GAIN

Increase of 16,635 Over Figures for 1928 Listed at End of Four Days

Reports of attendance at the close of school last Friday showed a gain of 16,635 over the same period of four days in 1928. The total figure for this year is 244,580, as against 227,944 last year for the elementary, junior and senior high schools.

The new junior college at the former site of the University of California, Los Angeles, reported 1238 students registered Friday. This figure is not included in the total of the grade and secondary schools.

Evening schools enrolled 20,236 during the first four days of school last week, a gain of 4768 over last year.

Senior high schools show an increase of 3294, their total being 50,485.

Junior high schools had an attendance of 30,394, or 1693 more than last year.

Elementary schools had 142,390, or 5694 more than last year.

COURT WILL HEAR USURY SUITS TODAY

Three Defendants in Old Julian Crash Cases to Seek Dismissal

Echoes of the Julian Petroleum Corporation smash are scheduled to be heard at 9:30 a.m. today in the State Supreme Court when argument on writs of mandamus and prohibition are delivered on three of the 148 John Doe usury complaints originating more than a year ago in Municipal Court. The petitioners are Herman Guterman, E. M. Hackel and Michael Harris, who, through their attorneys, are seeking writs of prohibition to restrain Municipal Judges Boggs and Pope from trying their cases, and writs of mandate to compel the lower court to dismiss the complaints.

It is contended by the petitioners that the usury complaints made out against them by City Prosecutor Niv under John Doe procedure, are illegal because Nix at all times knew the true names of the defendants, due to their business relations with Wagy & Co., with S. C. Lewis and through the fact that their names frequently were used in newspaper accounts of the Julian smash-up and investigation. Trial of the case in Municipal Court has been scheduled for October. The cases originally were set for argument in the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon, but upon motion of the petitioners' attorneys, led by former Chief Justice Myers, the court continued them until today.

Burglary-Clew Searcher Finds Missing Pair

Police investigation of a burglary yesterday resulted in locating a youthful couple who had been reported as elopers. Alma Hodges, 14 years of age, disappeared from home, 1808 South Hoover street, last Tuesday, her mother notified the police. Mrs. Hodges added that the girl had run away with a roomer, Cecil Porter, 17, and that the youth had written that he was taking her to Kansas City, where he promised to take good care of her.

While juvenile authorities were searching for the pair, Detective Lester C. Magnus residing west to 526 West Thirty-sixth street to investigate a burglary complaint. Norman Clyde, of that address, had reported his room had been entered. The detective learned that a young couple had rented a room in the house. He searched this room, reporting that he had found some of Clyde's missing articles.

When Magnus confronted Porter and Alma Hodges, he says they admitted their identities and said they had been delinquent around Los Angeles all week while the youth tried to raise enough money to take them to Arizona, where they intended to be married. Young Porter was booked on suspicion of burglary, and both youngsters were placed in charge of the juvenile authorities.

Alaskan Sheep to be Shipped

Carrying the first shipment of sheep ever made out of Alaska, the S.S. Tanana of the Alaska Steamship Company will arrive in Seattle on or about October 4, next, according to an announcement yesterday by Aman Moore, president of the Aleutian Livestock Company, a Los Angeles concern which six years ago began sheep-raising operations on the Aleutian Islands.

The vessel sailed from Seattle Sunday, bound for Neke, Chertofski Harbor, on the west end of Unalaska Island, and for Umanak Island. There she will take on 2000 head of yearling and 2-year-old ewes and return with them to Seattle via the outer passage.

POLITE OFFICER WINS PRAISE

C. E. Coe Tagged Last March, Now Police Commissioner, Remembers Courtesy

Courtesy extended by Traffic Officer J. A. Stambler at Second and Hill streets to Clarence E. Coe when he tagged the latter in March for passing a stop signal was returned yesterday by Coe, now a member of the Police Commission.

Commissioner Coe met Stambler yesterday for the first time since he was tagged and commended him for doing it in a courteous manner.

"I was on my way to jury duty in the Municipal Court," said Coe, explaining the incident, "and drove through the traffic signal. I was justly tagged and the officer was entirely right. It was the first time in twenty years that I had been tagged. But I remembered the courteous manner in which he did it and I took the opportunity, as a Police Commissioner, to commend him highly for his courtesy. He is the kind of officer we want on the force."

While juvenile authorities were searching for the pair, Detective Lester C. Magnus residing west to 526 West Thirty-sixth street to investigate a burglary complaint. Norman Clyde, of that address, had reported his room had been entered. The detective learned that a young couple had rented a room in the house. He searched this room, reporting that he had found some of Clyde's missing articles.

When Magnus confronted Porter and Alma Hodges, he says they admitted their identities and said they had been delinquent around Los Angeles all week while the youth tried to raise enough money to take them to Arizona, where they intended to be married. Young Porter was booked on suspicion of burglary, and both youngsters were placed in charge of the juvenile authorities.

Alaskan Sheep to be Shipped

Carrying the first shipment of sheep ever made out of Alaska, the S.S. Tanana of the Alaska Steamship Company will arrive in Seattle on or about October 4, next, according to an announcement yesterday by Aman Moore, president of the Aleutian Livestock Company, a Los Angeles concern which six years ago began sheep-raising operations on the Aleutian Islands.

The vessel sailed from Seattle Sunday, bound for Neke, Chertofski Harbor, on the west end of Unalaska Island, and for Umanak Island. There she will take on 2000 head of yearling and 2-year-old ewes and return with them to Seattle via the outer passage.

Commissioner Coe met Stambler yesterday for the first time since he was tagged and commended him for doing it in a courteous manner.

"I was on my way to jury duty in the Municipal Court," said Coe, explaining the incident, "and drove through the traffic signal. I was justly tagged and the officer was entirely right. It was the first time in twenty years that I had been tagged. But I remembered the courteous manner in which he did it and I took the opportunity, as a Police Commissioner, to commend him highly for his courtesy. COURT WILL HEAR USURY SUITS TODAY

Echoes of the Julian Petroleum Corporation smash are scheduled to be heard at 9:30 a.m. today in the State Supreme Court when argument on writs of mandamus and prohibition are delivered on three of the 148 John Doe usury complaints originating more than a year ago in Municipal Court. The petitioners are Herman Guterman, E. M. Hackel and Michael Harris, who, through their attorneys, are seeking writs of prohibition to restrain Municipal Judges Boggs and Pope from trying their cases, and writs of mandate to compel the lower court to dismiss the complaints.

It is contended by the petitioners that the usury complaints made out against them by City Prosecutor Niv under John Doe procedure, are illegal because Nix at all times knew the true names of the defendants, due to their business relations with Wagy & Co., with S. C. Lewis and through the fact that their names frequently were used in newspaper accounts of the Julian smash-up and investigation. Trial of the case in Municipal Court has been scheduled for October. The cases originally were set for argument in the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon, but upon motion of the petitioners' attorneys, led by former Chief Justice Myers, the court continued them until today.

Burglary-Clew Searcher Finds Missing Pair

Police investigation of a burglary yesterday resulted in locating a youthful couple who had been reported as elopers. Alma Hodges, 14 years of age, disappeared from home, 1808 South Hoover street, last Tuesday, her mother notified the police. Mrs. Hodges added that the girl had run away with a roomer, Cecil Porter, 17, and that the youth had written that he was taking her to Kansas City, where he promised to take good care of her.

While juvenile authorities were searching for the pair, Detective Lester C. Magnus residing west to 526 West Thirty-sixth street to investigate a burglary complaint. You've never felt this thrill before UNLESS YOU ARE A MUSICIAN

About This Amazing Discovery that Doubles Your Enjoyment of All Music

When you listen to it will open entirely new worlds of appreciation.

It gives you the creative satisfaction just as the musician feels. Made possible now for the first time by multiplying delicate shades of musical tones never before audible to the normal ear.

Stewart-Warner Engineers discovered a way to reproduce the reception while increasing the volume and making it more distinct. It multiplies your enjoyment in a way radio men long have sought.

What it does, our engineers made three important points that really improve upon old ways:

1. A new way of controlling oscillation. It filters out all of the outside noise, hum or interference of outside sounds more delicate than the music.

2. A new type of condenser. We make them of drawn glass and subject them to microscopic accuracy. This new way of tuning is the precise point of perfect reception.

3. A new type of speaker. It gives you almost human interpretation of music. It gives you power. It gives you volume. It gives you a radio now known the world over as "The Set with the Punch." It's the punch that brings distant stations booming in with all the strength of a local. It's the punch that cuts out all A. C. hum with no sacrifice of sensitivity.

These features change all old ideas of what a radio can do. It gives you an emotional satisfaction like creating your own music. If you listen to it, we promise it will win your favor. Hear it today at your nearest Stewart-Warner dealer's.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

The old song, "Christmas Comes But Once a Year," might be paraphrased with apologies, "Grand Opera Comes But Once Each Year," adding the second line, "and it now is almost here," and really there is almost as much excitement in social and musical circles of the Southland, as there is usually in the younger set over approaching Christmas holidays.

It is always a question whether midday will give a dinner party or follow it by a supper, as the first tends to make one late, or at least there is a possibility of being tardy, and, of course, if one arrives after the orchestra begins one must perform outside until after the first act, and that would be a calamity, and for the latter affair, it is usually so late when the opera is over, that one feels much more like going straight home, and enjoy the memory of the music, than to a supper party, meeting the milk man on his morning round.

Society will be largely represented, this season, many of our travelers coming home from far and near, even abroad, to be in time for the very first performance, and while there are only twenty-four legs built in the Shrine Auditorium, it is not possible for everyone to have a log, and there seems to be only two out of the twenty-four which have not been taken, perhaps these will not stay in the box office long.

Many of our prominent and charming hostesses have taken blocks of seats for each performance, while some have chosen the opera they most wished to hear and are entertaining friends at them.

Among those, however, who have taken logs for the entire season include Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Albert Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irwin Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Culver, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jewett Schweppe, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Kerkhoff, Mr. and Mrs. William Irving Hollingsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Allan C. Balch, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Harwood, Mr. and Mrs. Ben B. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Eric C. Halliburton, Dr. and Mrs. Isaac Humphreys Jones, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Fuller, James E. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Allen Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Robert David Mathews, Mrs. Egbert Judson Benedict, Mrs. Thomas J. Fleming, William Andrews Clark, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Leslie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Claudius Rives, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eugene Verbeck, Mrs. James Langford, Mrs. Mrs. Burke Holliday and Mrs. Anita Baldwin.

Home Again.—Mr. and Mrs. William H. Davis of 28 Berkeley Square, with their attractive young daughter, Nadine, have returned home after a delightful summer abroad. Nadine is one of the students this year at Marlborough School.

Unexpected Visit.—Lieut. Stuart A. Cameron, U.S.A. Medical Corps, who makes his headquarters at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C., and is now on a three weeks leave of absence, unexpectedly and enjoyably surprised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cameron of 121 1/2 North Eastlake Avenue Saturday evening with his arrival home. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron expect to return with their son to Washington next Friday and will visit their other three sons and daughter in the East for two months.

Announcement.—Formal announcement is made by Mrs. Flynn T. Parmenter of 825 Montrose Avenue, South Pasadena, of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Dorothy Parmenter, to John Paul Jones, son of Mrs. Richard F. Paulk of San Marino.

Miss Parmenter is a South Pasadena High School alumna and has taken an active part in the affairs of the younger South Pasadena social set, her family having moved to South Pasadena from Vermont twenty-five years ago.

The wedding is scheduled for November 30 and will be preceded by many delightful social courtesies.

Klubs-Socials.—The marriage of Miss Johanna Shirley Klube to Harold E. Seales was solemnized last evening in the Lutheran Church, Hollywood, followed by an elaborate reception and wedding supper at the California Club.

Miss Teddie Reynolds assisted as maid of honor, while C. A. Klube, brother of the bride, acted as best man and Eleanor E. Reingel was flower girl.

Spencer-Johns.—The West Adams Presbyterian Church was the setting of a lovely wedding the 3rd inst. when Miss Bernice Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Spencer, became the bride of Stanley Merrill Johns of St. Louis, formerly of Los Angeles.

The church was beautifully decorated in yellow and orange fall blossoms, against a background of ferns and potted plants, myriads of candles shedding a soft light over the scene.

The bride wore a becoming gown of tulle held in place by orange blossoms and she carried white roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. F. C. Holman assisted her sister as matron of honor in ecru lace and chiffon and carried roses, fuchsia and white lilies. Mrs. Dean Holman, small sister of the bride, carried the ring.

The bride returned recently from an extended trip around the world with her parents and sister, being met at the dock in New York by Dr. Johns, when they set the date of the wedding. After a trip north

CANADIAN VISITOR CHARMING

She and Husband Will Return Here

Mrs. Homer L. Gibson (Tycko Ambassador Studios)

ONE of the most charming visitors to the Southland of recent date is Mrs. Homer L. Gibson. She and Mr. Gibson with their small son Billy were guests at the Ambassador, enjoying a summer's outing here. They have just returned to their home in Toronto, Can.

Marriage Announced.—Mr. and Mrs. Toscan Parrott announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Toscan, to Robert Gerould of Hawthorn, the ceremony being quietly performed by Rev. C. A. Ball in the presence of immediate relatives.

The bride on her paternal side is a direct descendant of Frederick Tolson, who served under the first Napoleon, and John Fabry Parrott, Congressman from New Hampshire, grandfather of Robert Parrott of Civil War fame. Her ancestors were prominent in the Civil War and her uncles were in the Spanish-American War and the recent World War.

On her mother's side she is descended from three generations of artists of note, her mother also being an artist.

Mr. Gerould comes from England, where his parents are active in church work.

Cousins and Gings.—Mr. and Mrs. Jesse B. Alexander, who have been passing some time at the Wardman Park Hotel in Washington, D. C., recently returned to the hotel from a motor trip to New York, Atlantic City, and Old Point Comfort. They will go to New York this week and their niece, Miss Mary Matison of Dallas, Tex., and Miss Elizabeth Bell who are returning from a summer tour of Europe, and will return to Washington, where they will be for some time before returning to their home at the Gaylord.

Mrs. H. N. Stephens and Miss Belle Elmore of Beverly Hills Hotel are registered at Casa de Manana, La Jolla. Other Los Angeles visitors over the Labor Day holidays were Mrs. Georgia S. Pink, 630 South Kingsley Drive, Mrs. W. F. Howard, 248 South Lafayette Park, and Mrs. C. Bessing of 127 North Kenmore.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Palethorpe of 2501 Juliet street, Los Angeles, accompanied by their two daughters, have arrived in New York City for a visit of some length in the East and will be at the Hotel Montclair during their trip.

Miss Virginia Hutchinson of 838 Catalina street is leaving the 21st inst. for the Malolo for a cruise around the Pacific. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Mame R. Winard and Mrs. Florence Robinson. Many lovely affairs are being arranged in their honor.

Mrs. David Cassatt Barber has returned to her home, 683 South Harvard Boulevard, after six months' travel abroad.

Mrs. Charles E. Love, on South Harvard Boulevard, returned home recently from a summer of traveling through the north. She passed a number of weeks at Shasta Springs in the Sierras.

HEALTH AND DIET

ADVICE

By Dr. Frank M. Cox

Dr. Cox will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him care of the Los Angeles Times. Readers should send questions for reply.

THE ALKALINE VALUE OF DRIED VEGETABLES

One of the difficulties every doctor encounters in his practice is to teach his patients to eat enough of the nonstarchy vegetables. Many people, especially children, have difficulty in learning to like some of the most valuable of the health-building vegetables and prefer to live principally on an acid-forming diet of bread, cereals and sugar. As the little girl once said to her mother, "Mother, why didn't God make spinach and carrots taste like ice cream?"

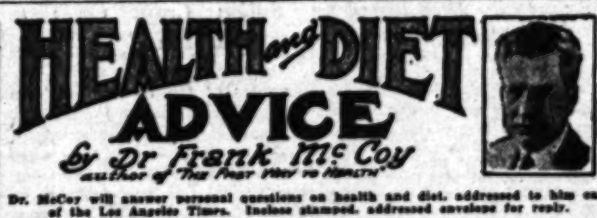

Almost any food may come on the disliked list of some people, including such wholesome vegetables and fruits as spinach, tomatoes, or some other perfectly wholesome food. One can usually overcome a dislike for vegetables by eating a small quantity of the disliked food with a large amount of the liked food. This can sometimes be done unobtrusively to the person eating, and in this way the dislike will gradually be overcome.

Many people do not acquire the strong robust health to which they are entitled simply because they do not eat enough of the alkaline-forming vegetables. This leads to acidosis, indigestion, poor teeth, dull complexion and a lowered vitality. Often an immediate improvement in health and personal appearance results when a large quantity of these vegetables are included in the diet.

For years scientists have sought to perfect dehydration, that is, the extraction of water from the fresh vegetables and fruits, so that the food value may remain unimpaired. The war gave a tremendous impetus to the science of dehydrating food, and as a result a whole new age of containers and transportation room, it became necessary to find some way of reducing the bulk of foodstuffs for drying out the water. This led to the modern perfected system of drying without the exposure to heat.

Chemical tests made by the University of California, at Berkeley, found that the water extracted from dehydrated vegetables is colorless, odorless and tasteless, showing that nothing is extracted from the vegetables except water. With the new method it was also possible to retain the elusive vitamin C which had hitherto been lost by drying, because of oxidation. With the new process, a full mineral salt content is unaltered, and vitamin content is preserved.

The clever idea then occurred to certain manufacturers of mixing a powder or flour of the dried most alkaline-forming vegetables to be added to various other foods. The flour usually produced by these companies consists of spinach, carrots, lettuce, tomatoes, celery and similar vegetables with spinach and carrots usually predominating. Reducing these vegetables to a fine flour makes it possible for their complete distribution throughout the food in which they are incorporated so that they can be mixed with many different products, such as biscuits, breads, macaroni and soups. It seems that this new process will actually assist in accomplishing what the little girl desired, by making it possible for the food to taste like ice cream.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Picks at Nose

Question: Mother asks: "What do you suppose is the cause of a boy of 13 always picking at his nose? I have given him the worst scolding, but still he picks at his nose." Answer: Your boy may be troubled with adenoids or chronic catarrh. In some cases, the nose picking is simply a habit which you correct by having him wear mittens or gloves as much of the time as possible.

Buttermilk

Q: Reader asks: "Does buttermilk tend to produce acidosis on account of the lactic acid it contains?"

Buttermilk, or the use of buttermilk in place of a meal has a tendency to cure acidosis rather than to cause it. The lactic acid of the buttermilk has a beneficial effect upon the intestinal flora, or vegetable growths in the intestines.

Yellow Jaundice

Q: D. L. P. asks: "Will you kindly give me some information about yellow fever, its cause and cure and how long it lasts if taken care of immediately?"

A: Jaundice may be caused by a serious disease of the liver, such as cancer or cirrhosis, but when it first appears it usually is caused by catarrhal inflammation of the bile ducts or by the bile being stopped by obstruction caused by gall stones. The treatment which I would suggest would be of course dependent upon the cause, but on general principles, a fruit fast would be effective in stimulating the flow of bile and removing the jaundice, at least temporarily.

CHOCOLATE NUT CAKE

One-half a cupful of butter or shortening, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, two and one-half cupfuls of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one cupful of milk, two squares of chocolate melted, one-half a teaspoonful of vanilla, three-quarters of a cupful of chopped walnut meats, one-half a cupful of salt, cream the shortening and add one cupful of sugar, beat the yolks of the eggs until thick and lemon-colored and beat into the remaining sugar, combine the two mixtures, add the melted chocolate, sift the dry ingredients and add the flour and nuts alternately, lastly add the nuts and beating, fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites, place in oiled and floured layer cake tin and bake in a moderate oven, cover with a mocha butter frosting.

FORK AND NOODLES

One and one-half pounds of lean pork, ground fine, one cupful of celery finely chopped, four large onions cut fine, two medium-sized green peppers chopped, two cupfuls of diced tomatoes, one-half a pound of noodles, trim the pork of all fat before grinding, place the trimmings in a sauce pan, render out the fat, then brown the ground pork in it, add the celery, onions and peppers and cook until well browned, add the tomatoes and cook for fifteen minutes, then season with salt and paprika and allow to simmer for half an hour longer, add the cooked noodles and let heat through thoroughly, pour onto a serving dish, garnish with parsley and serve.

STEAMED CORN AND BEANS

One cupful of corn, one cupful of fresh lima beans, two eggs, one milk, two squares of chocolate melted, one-half a cupful of milk, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one teaspoonful of salt and one-half a teaspoonful of paprika, cut the corn from the cob, mix with the lima beans and allow to cook until tender, cool, add the well-beaten eggs, sugar, milk, melted butter and seasonings. Pour the mixture into well-oiled ramekins, place them in a pan with boiling water in it and set in the oven until firm in the center.

TOMATO CURRY

Place in a saucepan two tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of finely chopped celery, one-half of a chopped green pepper, one-half of an onion finely chopped, and allow to cook until the onion is clear; take tomatoes, cut in rather thick slices and roll them in equal parts of corn meal and flour, brown them in butter on both sides without breaking, place thin slices of toast on a hot platter, cover with finely minced and seasoned leftover lamb or chicken, place the cooked tomatoes, dissolve one teaspoonful of cornstarch and one teaspoonful of curry powder in half a cupful of thin cream and combine with the vegetable mixture, pour this mixture over the tomatoes and serve.

MUST BE DRIED FIRST

Never put damp clothes or towels into the clothes hamper. Hang them in a good draught of air and let them become thoroughly dried out before putting them in. Otherwise you are sure to have them get rid of mildew and disagreeable odors and these are not pleasant things to do.

CHILDREN'S LOVE FOR EACH OTHER CANNOT BE FORCED

Mrs. H. W. writes: "I have two small daughters, five and seven. I want them to love each other and be pals but they quarrel so much. I am trying hard to teach them to stand by each other. The oldest has an affectionate disposition and the younger one hasn't. The oldest is easily led by other children and very seldom plays what she wants to but always does as the others dictate."

"Should I teach her to slap back when she is slapped? She never does—just runs and cries. I wish she had more spirit. It makes her sulky and unhappy when children talk up to her and make her take minor parts in their play. How can I help?"

"The younger one is quiet and doesn't care much to play with other children, but she asserts her rights, for she won't play unless she can have her own way. Sometimes when the older one wants to love her she pushes her away and tells her to leave her alone. She refuses all help with her dressing. How can I help them to be loving and kind to each other?"

ANSWER

This is a large order and one impossible to fill. No one can tell you how to make your children over, neither can you tell at this age what your children will be when grown. You are expecting adult attitudes and virtues of them now.

There is every chance that these sisters will be affectionate and companionable, though. Their dispositions fit well together, one girl affectionate and easily led, the other independent and dominating. All you can do as their mother is to give them both affection and endeavor strenuously to keep them from showing partiality to this or that child who evidently arouses your sympathies more than the younger.

I think you would do better not to encourage this tendency in yourself. If you give the older one the idea that she is in need of sympathy, that she always has to play the minor role, that she doesn't stand up for herself, you are giving her a large chip to carry that she may never lose. Instead, hide your sympathy and encourage her to take her own part. Tell her that she must try to think up interesting games so the children will want to do what she would like to. To help her in this, stimulate her imagination by reading her good stories and helping her to learn new and attractive games to play. The children will listen to her suggestion if she has something interesting to offer and you can help her in this way, unobtrusively.

WILL MAKE BETTER

If there is an empty compartment in the gum pan, fill it with water. It will make the cakes or muffins better and prevent scorching.

Meet an old friend—SUGAR

Nationally

There are many facts about sugar that many people do not know

Ask most people about sugar and they are likely to think of sweet desserts. That is an important part of sugar, certainly. Scientists recommend some sweet and satisfying dessert at the end of a meal.

Then some would think of sugar as a sweetener of other foods such as tart fresh fruits and berries, fruit juices, cereals, etc. Sugar is very useful as a sweetener. Scientists tell us that many very useful foods would be almost unpalatable without sugar.

In addition to all of that, however, sugar has so many other uses that it may well be considered the foundation of good cookery. Cooking authorities explain to us that sugar modifies some flavors, intensifies others, and even develops delicate flavors that otherwise might not be tasted at all. This makes a dash of sugar useful in cooking vegetables, in making salad dressings, most soups, stews, and many meat dishes.

Sugar even improves the taste of many foods. The right amount makes cakes tender and light. The addition of sugar helps to make jelly, marmalade, and preserves. Too little sugar and the jelly necessitates overcooking, and gives a rough, unappealing texture. The right amount of sugar helps the beaten egg to remain firm and stiff.

To remove sugar from food would be to make our diet completely bland and unpalatable. The supreme flavor that makes the right foods delicious is the right foods delicious. Sugar Institute.

WHAT single fact can mean more to any city than that the bread its people eat is the best that can possibly be baked! To produce such a bread we have drawn upon the baking experience of centuries and upon the most modern science of today. We have selected and standardized upon ingredients of the highest known quality. Today when you eat your first slice of the Six Million Dollar, Slo-Baked Wonder Bread, remember these things: Here is a bread made from specially milled short patent flour—the heart of the wheat berry—the most nutritious food-base that man has ever known. Here is a bread that contains double the usual quantity of milk, the primary sustainer of life, and every drop of this milk is pasteurized. Here is a bread baked by a process that cost more than six million dollars to perfect—a method known as slobaking—which improves flavor, prolongs freshness and insures a completely balanced and digestible food ration. Here is bread baked into a loaf that has proved itself most convenient for slicing. The slices fit the toaster better, make daintier sandwiches, and there are more slices to the loaf. The very hours of the schedule upon which Wonder Bread is mixed and baked have been timed to insure even-

UPLIFTERS
TO PRESENT
NEW PLAY

Historical Drama Planned by Club Includes Large and Noted Cast

Celebrating their sixteenth annual outing, members of the Uplifters' Club will present "The Golden Trail," a romantic historical drama of early California by Frank Dasey, at 8 o'clock Sunday evening in the outdoor amphitheater of the Uplifters' ranch in Rustic Canyon, Santa Monica.

Dasey, known as a playwright, penned the drama. It is being produced by Sol Lesser. The music is by Lou Gottschalk, the lyrics by Forest Barnes and George Marion and Forrest Barnes have directed the staging. Gottschalk will conduct the musical numbers of which there are an even dozen.

Edna Hibbard
Keays an entirely different type of character in "The Door Between" at the Belasco Theater than the ones to which she is accustomed. The stage drama continues its successful run.

MAJESTIC REOPENS SOON

Closed during the past summer in accordance with an old custom, the Majestic Theater will reopen as one of the leading entertainment places on the 27th inst.

"BIG TIME" WILL PLAY AT LOEW'S

New Product of Fox Brings Humor and Pathos; Many Stage Players in Cast

"Love time," and "laugh time" are the phrases used by Loew's State Theater in its advance description of "Big Time," the Fox all-dialogue, singing and dancing drama which will have its local premiere Thursday.

Heralded as one of the best productions of the Fox studio this season, the picture is a medley of pathos, and humor, it is said. Lee Tracy and Mae Clarke, two Broadway stage stars are introduced to talking screen fans in the leading roles. Tracy, who starred for three seasons in "Broadway" and then scored in "The Front Page," portrays the egotistical humorist who bills his pretty partner as "and company" and believes that his own cleverness is heading them toward "big time" vaudeville.

Mae Clarke was one of the leading dancers in "Gay Parade." She is the unassuming partner whose value in the act becomes apparent when she is deserted and her partner is introduced into the picture. Daphne Pollard, Stetlin Petchett and Josephine Dunn round out the cast. Kenneth Hawks directed and A. M. Vah Buren served as stage director. Wallace Smith's story, "Little Ledna," served as the basis for the scenario.

Cast of Rogers Film Includes Noted Persons

French comedienne, former Russian nobility and army officers, three former Hollywood directors, a noted heavyweight pugilist, an author's son, and a famous society woman are the cast of Will Rogers' "They Had to See Paris," which starts Wednesday.

The Carthay Circle is preparing for its gala premiere of the Fox Movietone production, "They Had to See Paris," which starts Wednesday.

NEW REVUE STARTS AT POM POM CAFE

Presenting a lively and fast-stepping array of talent and diversions, the Pom Pom Cafe last Friday opened its new twenty-day mid-night show, auspiciously called "Frenchy Frenchy." Staged by William McKeljohn, its numbers include both chorus and individual acts of merit, headed by Buddy Garry, a protégé of Gene Morgan's.

The principals for the most part are new and the entertainment is a mixture of eccentric and exotic dances, including such performers as Rudolph and Chiquita, Clarice Cannon and Arnold Glander.

Viking Film Planned
Varick Frisell, young explorer-director whose narrative, "The Great Arctic Seal Hunt," was viewed here recently, returned from Oakland this week with the news that Capt. Jack Robertson is to be associated with him as codirector for "Vikings of the Ice Fields," the exteriors of which will be shot in the great sealing waters of Newfoundland.

SIX POLICEMEN IN ARRAIGNMENT

Two Plead Not Guilty of Liquor Bribe Charge

Date of Trial for Pair Set for October 1

Others Enter Demurrers to Recent Indictments

Charged with having accepted bribes to protect bootleggers, six Los Angeles police officers appeared before Superior Judge Aggeler yesterday afternoon to enter their pleas. Miles H. Ledbetter and Walter E. (Bob) Evans pleaded not guilty to the charge and their trial was fixed for October 1, next, in Department 22.

The two defendants are charged with accepting $750 from Harry D. McDonald, Whittier resident, for not arresting him on a charge of receiving stolen property October 15, 1933.

The other four defendants entered demurrers to the indictment seeking to set them aside as legally faulty. After the demurrers were argued, Judge Aggeler took the matter under submission, announcing that he will rule on the motions Thursday next. At the same time, the court ordered the four defendants to return to his court on that date prepared to enter their pleas at 2 p.m.

POLICEMEN NAMED
Harry M. Hill, Oscar L. Peterson and Leonard F. Sale are named in one of the indictments. They are charged with accepting a $500 bribe from McDonald January 25, last, for not arresting him on a Wright Act charge.

The other defendant, Thomas R. Washburn, is charged with a co-defendant known only as John Doe, with taking $500 from McDonald October 15, 1933, as liquor "protection" money.

The grand jury indictments were returned following the arrest of McDonald charged with conspiracy to violate the Wright Act. After his arrest McDonald charged that he had operated as a bootlegger in Los Angeles for more than five years with police protection.

Sufficient corroboration was found by investigators to convince members of the grand jury that McDonald's story is true and the indictments were return forthwith.

ANOTHER INQUIRY
Meanwhile Percy V. Hammond, deputy district attorney in charge of grand jury matters, is continuing the inquiry which will be resumed by the grand jury today. At least five witnesses will be called to testify, and it is considered probable that three additional police officers may be named in indictments as a result.

Detectives from the District Attorney's office and the Sheriff's office also are investigating reports that attempts have been made to conceal evidence from the grand jury during the early stage of the inquiry.

NEW POLICE AUTO FUNDS AVAILABLE

The Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday approved a transfer of $38,740 for the replacement of 118 police-department automobiles, to be effective by December 1. The appropriation, which comes from budget allowances, received the approval of Efficiency Director Knox, who declared that this will enable the department to be at its best during the winter months when crime is highest.

The committee allows the purchase of two ambulances at $4,500 each less the turn-in value of $850; forty touring cars at $1,400 each less the turn-in value of $450, and seventy-six touring cars at $600 less the turn-in value of $37,340.

NEW COURT ASSEMBLES

Fourth District Appeal Justices Hold Meeting; Van Allen Indicated for Clerkship

Meeting officially for the first time since their appointment by Gov. Young several days ago, Presiding Justice W. A. Sloan, San Diego; Associate Justice Emerson J. Marks, Santa Ana, and Associate Justice Charles R. Barnard, Fresno, of the newly created Fourth District Court of Appeal, gathered in conference here yesterday. The meeting was for the purpose of organization and to enable the new appellate court justices to confer with Chief Justice W. A. Sloan of the State Supreme Court, who is presiding at the Los Angeles term here this week.

The first session of the new district court will be held at San Bernardino sometime in October, it was announced by Presiding Justice Sloan, who explained that under the law all litigant must have thirty days' notice of assignment of their cases to that district.

CALENDAR DIVISION
The calendar sessions of the new court, it was explained by the presiding justice, will be divided so that sessions will be held at San Bernardino in September, October, November and December, beginning in January and running for four months, the court will convene in Fresno. In May, June, July and August sessions will be held at San Diego.

A calendar for the new bench is ready at hand because scores of cases now on file in the Supreme Court and in the appellate districts in Los Angeles and San Francisco, that had their origin in the counties included in the new Fourth District, will be transferred to the new court for adjudication, it was explained. The new district covers San Diego, San Bernardino, Fresno, Kern, Inyo, Kings, Orange, Riverside and Tulare counties.

CLERK INDICATED
It was indicated late yesterday, following the completion of the conference of the newly named justices, that Mark C. Van Allen, for the past five years deputy clerk of the Second District Court of Appeal in Los Angeles, will be named today as clerk of the newly formed Fourth District Court.

Van Allen is one of the veteran court clerks of Southern California. He became deputy clerk in charge of the Los Angeles office of the State Supreme Court in 1908 and served in that capacity until 1924 when he was named deputy clerk in the Second District Appellate Court here.

No confirmation of the report that he will be the clerk of the new court could be obtained from the justices of that court yesterday.

Representative Evans Speaks to Woman's City Club

Washington Far Less Wet Than Painted, He Declares

Resume of Legislation Shows California Fares Well

BY ROSALIND SHEPARD
"Don't rap your Representative—buy safe, sane and sober," might have been the text of Representative W. K. Evans' speech yesterday afternoon to members of the Woman's City Club in the Majestic Theater. Instead, the subject, in his own words, was "Legislation of Importance Before the Recent Regular and Present Extra Sessions of Congress."

It was the first meeting of the new club year for the organization and several hundred women gathered to hear the program, which also included Luchita Dale, speaking on "Loyalty." Mrs. Joseph W. Hamer, re-elected president, presided.

CERTIFIED DRY
"I don't say that all members of Congress are just what we'd like to have them be," began Mr. Evans, "but I believe that a majority of the members of the House and Senate are men of integrity and high character. I am a certified dry man and I believe that the majority of the members of Congress are men of integrity and high character."

The speaker expressed the belief that in the last six months California has been the beneficiary of more legislation than in six years preceding. "More than $184,000,000 has been appropriated for us for three kinds of improvement: Construction of Federal buildings, harbors and water supply and flood control."

REAPPORTMENT
Another bill of great importance to California, according to the Representative, "is the reapportionment bill by which California will have 12 members and by next year, when a new census is taken, the State will probably have nineteen members."

Edgar Wilman, addressing the members earlier in the day at a luncheon meeting in the Men's City Club, said that Los Angeles fast is becoming recognized as a center of modern decorative art.

Journalism for Club Women
Including lectures and practice in the fundamentals of news-gathering, news-writing, and feature writing, a college course in journalism for club women is to be given at the University of Southern California, today.

The class will meet from 3 to 4:30 p.m. each Tuesday afternoon for twelve weeks and particular reference, according to Prof. Ivan Benson, of the department of journalism, who is to have charge of the group, will be made to publicity work in women's clubs. Today's date is to be open to the public, with enrollment in the entire course permissible at the time of this class.

Scotchmen's Gathering
Meeting for the second time since their summer vacation, Los Angeles Scotchmen will gather at noon today in the Midland Hotel for a luncheon to partake of an "all-Scotch" program (guaranteed pure—no after-effects—no speeches) which will be presented by Adlai Stevenson, a member, who is not Scotch at all.

Billed to follow several club songs are a "pop cocktail" and a "Scotch highball," respectively, to be composed of dancing and piping. Sir Harry Lauder is to be impersonated and the attendance prize is to be of Scotch descent.

To Meet Director
To meet Leon Rains, new director from the Hollywood Opera Reading Club, a tea for members will be given from 3 to 6 p.m. Thursday in the beautiful gardens of Mrs. Charles Freilighuyen Smith. Assisting in arrangements for the affair are Mesdames James McOffen, G. B. Hinckley, George Dickson, David Mair, Albert Walker, Charles Egan, William H. Gilbert, George A. Hunter, E. W. DeMott, Andrew Pink, Edwin F. Kibler and Robert Hoyt.

In the receiving line with Mrs. Smith will be Mesdames John Steven McGroarty, Arch Murdock, Conrad Nagel, Loren B. Curtis, E. Palmer Tucker, Irving Gardner, Ralph Waldo Trine, Jay Harrington, W. F. Wood, Frank M. Strobridge, Jacques Bendori, L. Frank Baum, Harry S. Carr, Samuel Biddle, J. W. Cushman, A. W. McAlister, R. B. Maser, Harry E. Jones, E. H. Burrows, Leslie Hogland, R. W. Bucknam, Dick Smith and William A. Nickell; Miss Ellen Marshall and Miss Dorothy Douglas.

Garfield Study Club
"The Story of Gold" will be the subject of the program at the Garfield Study Club, Thursday afternoon, at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the Federation headquarters, 2103 South Robert Boulevard. Among the subjects to be discussed are "Why the mentally unfit must not be released and how the laws and institutions of California take care of the subject," "Importance of health survey before matrimony," and "Preparation for parenthood." The public is invited.

San Francisco Address
Mrs. John C. Urquhart, chairman of the Women's Law Enforcement Committee of Southern California and chairman of the division of law observance of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, left Sunday for San Francisco, where she spoke yesterday noon at luncheon in the Hotel St. Francis. Dr. E. H. Cherrington of

LACK OF WHITE-PAINTED CARS BARS POLICE DRIVE

A shortage of motorcycles and the need for painting police cars a uniform color to enforce State motor-vehicle laws is holding up the police department drive against autoists who "hog" the center of the road, President Thorpe of the Police Commission, was informed yesterday by Capt. Clifford of the police traffic division.

Thorpe called Clifford on the telephone to find out how the drive ordered last week by the commission was progressing. Clifford explained there was a shortage of motorcycles because eight or ten were being repaired and a large proportion of the remainder are being used in dry-law enforcement.

"The police automobiles," ordered Thorpe, "should be painted white. If they are not, the commission will have to order them repainted."

Clifford explained that this couldn't be done because he had no money to pay for the paint.

At that time the federation committee of 5000 welcomed to the Washington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism.

The Women's Law Enforcement Committee will give a luncheon for Dr. Cherrington October 5 at the Los Angeles Biltmore, when it is expected that 1000 will be in attendance.

Jennie Gould, Veteran City Teacher, Dies
Miss Jennie C. Gould, veteran California school teacher, died yesterday at her home, 911 Golden avenue. She was 80 years of age. Born in Lewiston, Me., in May, 1854, she was brought to California by her parents during the gold rush when she was 1 year of age. She was raised in Northern California, living in Santa Clara until 1880, when she moved to Los Angeles. She served as a teacher in the schools of this State thirty-two years, the final twenty-two years in Los Angeles schools, retiring on a pension two years ago.

She leaves three brothers, E. H. Gould of Los Angeles, and I. P. Gould and I. Ames Gould of Fresno. Funeral services will be conducted at the Melrose Chapel at a time to be announced later, followed by entombment in the Forest Lawn Memorial Park mausoleum.

ACTRESS RELATES TALE OF JEALOUSY

Jeannette Loff

Jealousy "improperly manifested" by her husband, Harry K. Roseboom, made Jeannette Loff, film actress, so ill that she had to call a doctor, she asserts in her divorce petition filed yesterday by Attorney Roger Marchetti.

Another cause for divorce, she says, is a misrepresentation by the defendant regarding his marital state before he met her. She learned after marriage that Roseboom had a child by another woman, she said, and they quarreled considerably about this child.

On January 8, last, Mrs. Roseboom says, her husband left her and since has refused to return.

PARAMOUNT STUDIO BLAZE OUT QUICKLY

Fire of undetermined origin early yesterday morning threatened destruction to the scenic department at the Paramount studio in Hollywood. A new automatic fire-suppression system kept the damage to a minimum, according to studio executives. The fire broke out in a number of old sets in storage.

MOTION PICTURE BLOCK TRIAL

Sherman Will Be Heard, Motion Picture to Federal Court

United States District Judge Sherman will hear testimony of several witnesses in the case of the motion picture industry against the federal government, it is expected that the case will be heard in the federal court in Los Angeles.

The case involves the motion picture industry's claim that the federal government is violating the First Amendment of the Constitution by censoring motion pictures.

The motion picture industry is represented by the National Motion Picture Association, which is suing the federal government for its alleged censorship of motion pictures.

The federal government is represented by the United States Department of Justice, which is defending its right to censor motion pictures.

The case is expected to be heard in the federal court in Los Angeles in the near future.

Boy's Assault Gets Jail Term
William Thomas, charged with assaulting a girl, was sentenced to jail for thirty days by Judge Sherman yesterday.

Thomas was charged with assaulting a girl in the streets of Los Angeles. He was found guilty by a jury and sentenced to jail.

The girl was a minor and the assault was considered a serious offense. Thomas was released on bail after his sentencing.

Preliminaries Open Weekly Program

BY PAUL LOWERY

Boxing boys who have been the hits of the past few weeks in local fight circles are the kidnaping of the Olympic tonight.

It is a postponed battle of the fifts, this time between Golden Boy and Willie Mack, that was to have taken place in the State Athletic Commission's main event, but was postponed because of the state of the Olympic.

Golden Boy, who was the favorite to win the Olympic, is now the underdog. He is expected to win, but the odds are against him.

Willie Mack, who was the underdog, is now the favorite. He is expected to win, but the odds are against him.

The fight is expected to be a close one. Both boys are in good shape and are expected to give a good performance.

The fight will be held at the Los Angeles Biltmore. The Biltmore is proud to host this fight.

The fight is a great opportunity for Los Angeles residents to see two of the best boxers in the world. The Biltmore is excited to host this fight.

The fight will be held from September 17 to October 1. The Biltmore is looking forward to a successful fight.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

In the bows of two of the canoes were the runners that the chief had sent forth three hours earlier. It was evident they had been dispatched to follow and bring back this party, and the signal from the bank was one that had been determined upon. The dugouts now drew up to the verdure-clad bank. The native warriors piled out and with them a half-dozen miles, ugly-looking white men.

But none was more evil-faced than the fellow who commanded them. "Where is this white man your messengers report to be with you?" he asked of the chief. "This way, 'wana," replied the chief. "Come quietly. He sleeps within my village." "Stand by us," said the leader, "and I will give you a rifle and some ammunition." The chief then led the way toward the hut, outside of which Tarzan was sleeping.

Behind the two men, in perfect silence, came the others. As the leader's eyes fell upon the giant figure of the sleeping ape-man, an ugly smile touched his lips. Then he signaled his men and six brutes leaped upon the surprised Tarzan, binding him securely before he could make half an effort to escape. Then they threw him down upon his back and he saw the malignant face of Nikolas Rokoff.

A sneer curled the Russian's lips. Then he gave the prostrate man several vicious kicks. "That for your welcome," he said. "Again, you pig, I have caught you! Have you not learned sufficient wisdom to keep away from Nikolas Rokoff? Tonight, before my Russian friends eat you, I shall tell you what has already befallen your wife and child, and what further plans I have for their futures."

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY 1448

The Story of the World War
218—The Capture of Bouresches.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

JUNE 6, 1918, THE MACHINE BRIGADE OF THE 2ND DIVISION, UNDAUNTED BY A DEADLY MACHINE GUN FIRE FROM THE GERMANS, PENETRATED INTO BELLEAU WOOD, DRIVING THE ENEMY BACK THROUGH THE TANGLED THICKETS.

DURING THE AFTERNOON A THIRD COLUMN ADVANCED TO CAPTURE THE VILLAGE OF BOURESCHES, THAT LAY IN A LITTLE VALLEY
EAST OF THE WOOD. HERE, TOO, THE ENEMY OFFERED A DESPERATE RESISTANCE.

BOURESCHES WAS TAKEN ON THE NIGHT OF JUNE 6 BY LIEUT. JAMES F. ROBERTSON
OF THE MARINES, WITH 20 MEN OF HIS PLATOON. AID WAS RUSHED TO ROBERTSON AND
THE ENEMY'S COUNTER-ATTACKS WERE REPULSED.

IN THE MEANTIME THE OTHER BRIGADE OF THE DIVISION, MADE UP OF THE 9TH AND 23RD INFANTRY, DROVE INTO THE FIGHT, HAD ALSO ADVANCED, CAPTURING PARTS OF THE GERMAN LINE IN FRONT OF THEM THOUGH THIS WAS NOT ORIGINALLY INTENDED.

THREE-YEAR HUNT ENDS BY ARREST

Asserted Bunko Man Said by Police to be Wanted by Twelve States

With the arrest of Taft T. Houghton, 23 years of age, who described himself as a salesman, police yesterday declared they had in custody a man who for three years has been sought by the authorities of twelve States on charges of grand theft and bunks. Although they booked him at Central Station on the specific charge of grand theft bunks, involving an asserted transaction with one of the large department stores here, police withheld details.

Houghton's arrest resulted from a relentless pursuit carried on by O. E. Chandler, advertising man and special operative of the Nick Harris detective agency. According to the police, Chandler befriended Houghton for about six weeks, and was unaware he was being sought. Just before leaving for his home, it is charged, Houghton persuaded Chandler to cash his check for $50. When the check was returned as worthless, Chandler reported the matter to police and then learned for the first time that Houghton was being hunted as a fugitive from Houston, Tex.

Commissioner Seeks Scalp of Inspector Rook

Rose Rook, chief inspector for the Board of Public Works, in city employ for twenty-two years, does not measure up to the standard of the position, in the opinion of Public Works Commissioner Hyde, and he will be replaced, it was learned yesterday. A temporary place will be found for Rook, it was indicated, but Rook is expected by the commissioner to "eliminate himself" from the public service. The attitude of the other four commissioners was not indicated.

ARMY-NAVY-MARINE GROUP TO MEET

AIRPLANE NEWS EXCHANGE

(Not all the interesting and out-of-the-ordinary news of the day finds a place on crowded wires or waves. Every evening The Times conducts a news exchange by airplane.)

By Western Air Express, T.A.T. and Standard lines papers of current and recent date from pilot cities are received. Washington, D. C., contributes the Star only two days from the press. Indianapolis and Chicago thirty-six hours. Kansas City, Salt Lake and Phoenix are just halfway 'round the clock. Today's gleaming range in subjects from the bear market on straw lids to the noel manner in which a man slaps his wife to sleep at night.)

DOES ADVERTISING PAY?

Washington (D. C.) Star, Sept. 15. William M. Holtzman, 55 years of age, employee of the city for nine months ago for a wife, was married to Miss Jessie L. Henery of Pine Grove, Va. In his advertisement Holtzman said he wished a home-maker and not a home-breaker, a Christian, cook and one who could love and cherish him in his old age.

SUMMER SKIMMERS SKID

Kansas City Star, September 15. The cool wave brought a sudden panic on straw hats. Frank Arend got out from under by selling his for 5 cents, and Claude Wheat is offering his at auction, first bidder for the return voyage of the ship. The vendors of the Shepard line are offering the straw hat around $700,000 in some 1 and 2 around Aurora, with a similar catayem of values all over the United States.

BALDHEADS NOW LAUGH

Chicago Tribune, September 15. Members of the National Beauty and Barber Shop Dealers' Supply Association met in convention at the Stevens Hotel yesterday and discussed plans for a minimum charge of $1 for haircuts.

NOE IN CALIFORNIA

Kansas City Times, September 15. A Boston man slapped his wife and she went to sleep. It is strange wives those Boston men have, because Missus Boston do not go to sleep at all when slapped by their husbands.

RETIREMENT LINDY

Indianapolis News, September 15. After all, we're rather glad Lindy wasn't the one who found the ill-fated T.A.T. plane. He might not have considered the discovery news.

Daylight Thief Binds and Robs Doctor's Wife

Furnished with a good description of him, police last night were on the lookout in Hollywood for a bandit who yesterday afternoon forced an entrance into the home of Dr. H. A. Niesbergall at 1945 Talmadge street, bound and gagged Mrs. Niesbergall and escaped with money and wearing apparel worth $50. Answering a knock at the door while alone in the house, Mrs. Niesbergall found herself covered with an automatic pistol in the hands of the robber. As she slammed the door he rushed to the foot of the stairs, prevented by clothing. Then he entered carrying a suit case. From the suit case he produced a towel with which he gagged her. Then he tied her to a chair. Then he located the money and clothing and hurried away.

"Talking Dog" May Have Voice in Ownership

Ownership of Pola, a "talking dog," said to have had considerable experience in broadcasting by radio and acting in "talkies," is at stake in a lawsuit that went to trial yesterday in Superior Judge Gates' court.

NEW BIDDER ON SHIPPING LANES

Shepard Line Plans Entry of Intercoastal Trade

Will Solicit Both Eastbound and Westbound Cargo

First Sailing from Port Set for Early October

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Entry of the Shepard Steamship Company into the intercoastal cargo-carrying trade eastbound, as well as west, was announced yesterday by Capt. H. H. Kirkholm, local manager for the General Steamship Corporation agents for the line. Inauguration of the eastbound service will be by the steamer Sagittarius, followed by the steamer Sea Thrush early in November, and others to maintain a monthly service. The line in trade from Los Angeles to New York will be twenty days. Boston and Philadelphia also will be served on the Atlantic coast route and San Francisco on the Pacific.

DELEGATES OFF FOR FOREIGN TRADE MEET

By plane, train and auto Los Angeles delegates have been departing for the annual meeting of the Pacific Foreign Trade Council, which will open tomorrow in Seattle. Among the delegates are Arthur G. Hughes, customs attorney for the Southern Pacific; James H. Smiley, district manager of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Trade; Maurice Caran, local importer and exporter; F. A. Sumption, Security First National Bank; Albert W. Weigel and Cecil A. James, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; and Lloyd V. Roberts of the Los Angeles Harbor Department, who will exhibit films of the port.

NATIONAL NAVIGATION LINES

Los Angeles has purchased the steamer Sinaca and will add to the fleet of the National Navigation Lines of the United States and Mexico, according to Gonzalo Sierra, president, following his visit here recently. "We may have other ships if conditions keep up to our expectations," he added. The line is owned by the government of Mexico, but is operated by a private trust. It includes the steamers Washington, Bolivar and Motocruz.

Templeton Crocker, San Francisco

Templeton Crocker, San Francisco, is expected to arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow. He is a member of the Pacific Foreign Trade Council, which will open tomorrow in Seattle.
